

Suspect found dead in his family's home

Oakdale Road area evacuated while police resolve situation

By STEPHEN BJORK

WILMINGTON - A local man was found dead after entering his parents' Wilmington home in a threatening manner and discharging a firearm on Wednesday morning, December 1.

At approximately 7:32 a.m. Wilmington Police received a 911 hang-up call originating from 18 Oakdale Road. Officers are familiar with the address and with one of its occupants, Scott Fama. Fama, 42-years old, has appeared in the Wilmington police logs multiple times over the last several years, and police have responded to the residence more than once for various reasons.

"Scott is known to us," said Police Chief Michael Begonis, during a press conference after the incident was resolved. "He has had difficulties with mental illness in the past."

Officers quickly ascertained that Fama entered his parents' home, where he was residing, made an initial threat and then discharged a gun. His parents were able to flee the home without injury and sought shelter and safety at a neighbor's house. No one else was in the home at the time.

Police descended on the scene and evacuated the area and blocked entrance to the neighborhood at Shady Lane Drive as they worked to apprehend Fama. Wilmington Police were joined at the scene by a full SWAT team, State Police, a State Police helicopter, and by officers from neighboring towns. The NEMLEC (North Eastern Massachusetts Law Enforcement Council) Mobile Command Center was established near the scene on Middlesex Avenue.

The police made use of its new Reverse 911 system to

Tarr to lead Senate Republicans

BOSTON - The Massachusetts Senate Republican Caucus announced Saturday that Senator Bruce Tarr of Gloucester, who represents Wilmington, will be the next Minority Leader of the Massachusetts State Senate. Tarr currently serves as the Senate's Assistant Minority Leader and will succeed Senator Richard R. Tisei of Wakefield when the Senate reorganizes for the new session in January.

"I am honored by the trust that my colleagues are placing in me and welcome the opportunity to lead our caucus as we confront the enormous challenges facing our state," said Tarr. "But my main objective is to continue to represent the citizens of Wilmington and of the 16 other communities in the district as well as possible."

Tarr was first elected to the Senate in 1994. He has served in numerous leadership positions including Assistant Minority Whip, Minority Whip and Assistant Minority Leader. He is the current Co-Chairman of the Coastal Caucus and the Northeast Legislative Caucus and the Fisheries Subcommittee of the Joint Committee on the Environment, Natural Resources and Agriculture. In addition he serves as the ranking Republican Senate member of the Joint Committee on Children, Families and Persons with Disabilities, the Joint Committee on Public Safety and Homeland Security, the Joint Committee on Economic Development and Emerging Technology, the Joint Committee on Environment, Natural

Tree Lighting this Saturday

Horse drawn carriages, and ice sculpture, and Santa will be there!

By JARED WRIGHT

WILMINGTON - Now that the weather has gotten colder and everyone has finished gorging themselves with Thanksgiving feasts, Wilmington is ready to herald in the Christmas season with the town's annual Tree Lighting Ceremony. On Saturday, December 4, Wilmington will have a community celebration to light the Town Commons and share in the season's festive atmosphere. The multi-faceted event is planned by the Fourth of July Committee and, because of the many community-minded sponsors, the event is free and open to the public.

The activities will start at 4:30 p.m. with hayrides on two horse drawn carriages and Wilmington Minutemen patrolling the Common with lanterns to put people in the spirit of the evening. An ice sculptor will dazzle onlookers with his cool, chipped master-

Local man saves Maine boy

Thin ice led to frigid rescue

By JAYNE W. MILLER

NAPLES, MAINE - When a 12-year old boy fell through thin ice last Friday in Naples, Maine, a Tewksbury resident pulled him to safety.

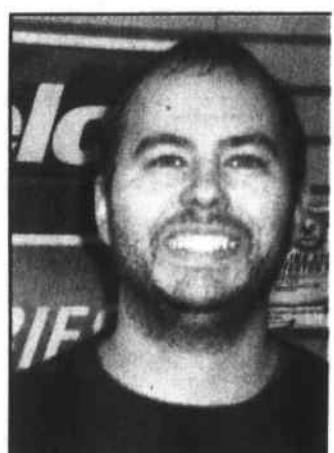

Jason Guy, 31, grew up in Wilmington and owns a small business there, Auto Repair

Guy. While the retail stores were teeming with eager Black Friday shoppers, Guy was instead visiting his aunt, uncle and cousins at their vacation home in Naples, Maine for a post-Thanksgiving get-together. Guy's cousin, Dalton

Collins, 12, was hanging out with his friend, Curtis Gerrish, 12, a Naples local, along the banks of the Muddy River, an inlet off Sebago Lake. The river had frozen over early in the season and with an inch of ice, young Gerrish thought it was thick enough to support him to venture out to an island in the middle of the river.

Instead the ice collapsed, sending Gerrish into chest-deep icy water.

Collins phoned his family back at the house, a few minutes car-ride away. When Jason arrived he utilized a canoe on the riverbank and slid himself over the ice, leaning over the bow and using his hands to push his way out the 300 feet, nearly to the

Affordable Housing available

The American dream - affordably

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - Now that the election has passed and Massachusetts retained the 40B affordable housing development laws threatened by a ballot question, selling available units is not always easy. Wilmington currently has several deed-restricted homes on the market in the desirable development of Shawsheen Commons, at an incredible price, proving that 40B really does offer families opportunity.

Drive into Shawsheen Commons, Wilmington's first development under the 40B comprehensive permit laws and built in the mid-1990s, and you'll see a neat, bustling neighborhood. The homes are a mixture of designs in a variety of styles including single family, duplexes, tri-plexes, and quadplexes. Sidewalks line the roads. Many homes have a fenced yard, as the unique arrangement includes the unit as well as the land it sits upon.

Shawsheen Commons has 240 total homes of which 66 qualify as affordable under the law, meaning the deeds are restricted to staying within a certain price range. Driving through this neighborhood, it is impossible to tell which units count as affordable and which is market price, which is precisely the point of 40B. The neighborhood also does not have

Toy Drive for hospitalized children and their siblings

Eight-year old child demonstrates the true meaning of the season

TEWKSBURY - Emily Cashell is the big sister of five-year old Ashley Cashell who is battling leukemia. At only eight-years old herself, Emily Cashell is not really so big - unless you are talking about her heart. The big-hearted Heath Brook School second grader has decided to hold a Holiday Toy Drive for both Boston's Children's Hospital and The Jimmy Fund Clinic.

"She wanted to help out right from the beginning," her father Mark Cashell proudly explains. "When she told me she wanted to do this, I asked why she decided on a Toy Drive." She told her father that she remembered receiving gifts while in the hospital visiting her sister at Christmas time and how nice it was for her.

Two years ago, her sister was newly diagnosed with Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia and was a patient in "Six North" at Children's Hospital. Emily spent her November birthday and Thanksgiving as well as the Christmas holiday season either at Children's Hospital visiting her sister or with family and friends while her parents were at the hospital. But Emily never complained.

Her father is grateful that, in addition to having friends and family, Emily found support through a siblings group at Children's Hospital and the Jimmy Fund Clinic. "She actually found these groups to be very helpful during these stressful times," he says. "A disease like this really impacts the entire family."

Emily has recruited local businesses to help with the toy drive. Pepsi Bottling Group in Wilmington and the Market Basket Supermarket in Tewksbury donated the boxes. Other businesses have volunteered to be drop-off locations. Emily has three locations in Tewksbury and Wilmington. They are CardSmart in Wilmington Plaza, Byette Insurance at 853 Main Street in Tewksbury, and Krochmal Farms, 81 Jennies Way, also in Tewksbury.

Thanks to social networking via the Internet, the Cashell toy drive initiative is known literally around the world. Cashell has received responses to his Facebook posts from France, Norway and Sweden. He tells people not in this area, "Go by a hospital and drop off something for the children there." He stresses it's not just for the children hospitalized; it's their siblings being impacted too.

Toys must be new, unopened, and not gift wrapped. Tiny choke able toys or cloth toys cannot be accepted. For more information or to arrange a toy pick up, please contact Mark Cashell at Meancash@aol.com, or 978-604-9566.

Shown here in the playroom at Children's Hospital, Emily Cashell has organized a Holiday Toy Drive for Children's Hospital and The Jimmy Fund Clinic. Through her own experience, she realized the joy that a small gift of a toy can bring to patients and their siblings. If you would like to support her, you can bring a new, unwrapped toy to drop boxes at CardSmart in Wilmington or Byette Insurance and Krochmal Farms in Tewksbury.

pieces, and cookies and hot chocolate will be provided to warm the cockles of everyone's hearts and stomachs. Wilmington's Methodist Church Choir will serenade celebrators with carols fitting to the season, and Wilmington's firefighters will be collecting toys at the Fourth of July Building to distribute for Wilmington's Toys for Local Children campaign. Bring your new, unwrapped toys to the Fourth of July Building.

The Wilmington Community Fund's annual Holiday Ornament will be available for sale at the Fourth of July Building, with all proceeds to benefit the Wilmington Community Fund's mission of, "People Helping People." This year's ornament is "Christmas by Candlelight." The Community Fund has commissioned similar pewter ornaments for several years and they are always a big seller.

With so much to offer, it is an event anyone in the community can get excited about.

"We usually get several hundred to a thousand people to go," said Scott Garratt, Chairman of the Fourth of July Committee. "It should be a good time."

The official ceremony is set to begin at 5:30 p.m., but all of those festivities pale in comparison to the main attraction at 6:00 p.m. - none other than Santa himself. Kids will be able to talk and pose for photographs with Santa. There will be a photographer present and parents will be able to access the pictures through the event's website - www.funonthe-fourth.com. And then, the evening will culminate in the lighting of the Commons at 7:00 p.m. So don't miss out on the opportunity to welcome the Christmas season with the community at Wilmington's annual Tree Lighting Ceremony.

This year's Tree Lighting is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, K&A Cones, Reading Cooperative Bank, Wilmington Patch.com, and the Dello Russo Family Funeral Home.

This is the 2010 Wilmington Community Fund Christmas ornament. It will be available for sale ($10) at the fourth of July Building during the Tree Lighting, and also at Rocco's Restaurant and Designs By Don.

New school windows go green

Grant program will pick up hefty percentage of tab

By JAYNE W. MILLER

WILMINGTON - The Shawsheen School is getting new windows, and a hefty portion of the tab will be picked up by a grant.

Town meeting voted in 2009 to appropriate $715,000 to replace the windows at the Shawsheen School, under Article 12. This summer, news of a Green Repairs Programs through the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA) went out from the state for the express purpose of granting funds to districts for the repair or replacement of roofs, windows and/or boilers in public school facilities that are structurally, functionally and educationally sound, except for the condition of the roof, windows and/or boiler.

"I thought that we had nothing to lose in applying and a lot to gain if we were chosen," said Superintendent of Schools Joanne Benton. "This is a win-win for Wilmington. We get energy efficient windows and about $300,000 dollars to do another project."

The reimbursement rate from MSBA hovers between 43 and 48 percent of the budgeted cost.

George Hooper, Superintendent of Public Buildings for Wilmington, told the Crier that the plan is to replace all the windows in the Shawsheen School, built in 1970. The windows, with the exception of a few replacements over the years, were all original.

"They are probably the least efficient windows you can have," Hooper told the Crier. "They got a lot of bang for their buck with those original (40-year old) windows. The old windows are not energy efficient at all and in some cases have also clouded over."

The project scope will also include ensuring that everything around the new windows will be caulked and insulated. In some places the windows act as curtain walls from the first floor to the second floor, increasing the challenge.

Hooper added that his department is looking to changing out all the doors in the school as well.

"We are hoping for a good return on investment," said Hooper. "They are telling us we should see around a 40 percent energy reduction."

The school already received a fire alarm upgrade over the summer and has made some changes to lighting in gymnasiums and cafeterias throughout the district, moving over to more energy efficient bulbs.

"We are trying to move into the 21st century," said Hooper. "I don't want to hit the taxpayers in the pockets all at once, but would rather do these projects incrementally. We will start on one side of town and work our way to the other."

Hooper said that his crew had recently finished work at the West Intermediate School, taking out 33,500 incandescent fixtures and put in 24 new fixtures for better quality to light.

Having already gone through the design phase of the project, the green repair program came along at the right time. The MSBA opened a brief Green Repair Statement of Interest (SOI) filing period on August 11, 2010 which ran through September 22, 2010.

According to the MSBA, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) did not include any grant funding for school construction or renovation projects, so the program is not, strictly speaking, federally funded. However, the ARRA act did include a new type of bond called a Qualified School Construction Bond (QSCB). The MSBA has the ability to issue up to approximately $300 million of these bonds and use the proceeds for grants to local districts. The MSBA is required to pay back those funds over time. The QSCB allows the MSBA the ability to borrow funds at a reduced interest cost, allowing the MSBA to approve more projects.

"So, if we can get all that done, and start saving on energy, then it's a win-win for the town," said Hooper.

DONATING A CAR TO CHARITY?

The airwaves are still full of big ads promising large tax deductions if you donate your used car to charity, maybe more than you'd get by selling the vehicle. Watch out. There are rules.

First, the charity must be an organization qualified to receive a tax-deductible contribution. You must itemize deductions on your Schedule A of Form 1040. And you cannot deduct more than half your income. And how much can you deduct? There's the rub.

Generally, if the charity sells your car (or boat), the deduction is limited to the gross proceeds it gets from the sale. In order to deduct more than $500, the charity's acknowledgment generally must declare that it gave you no goods or services for the car.

If, however, the charity intends to use the vehicle, or to give it to a needy individual in need of transportation at a greatly reduced price, you may be able to deduct the vehicle's fair market value on the date you donated it.

Musical performance at AAUW meeting

MELROSE - A musical performance by the Boston Erhu Ensemble will be featured at the Wednesday, December 8, meeting of the Melrose-Wakefield Area Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW).

The Chinese Erhu is a type of violin with only two strings used extensively during the Qing dynasty (1644-1911), the golden age of Chinese operas. In the past 60 years the manufacture, playing technique, repertoire and popularity of the erhu have undergone unprecedented development and the erhu has become one of the most popular instruments in China.

The Boston Erhu Ensemble strives to involve youth members in promoting cultural diversity through the use of Chinese music.

In addition to the concert, the AAUW meeting will include a Bake and Craft Sale to benefit the branch's scholarship fund.

The December 8 meeting will be at 7 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church, 645 Main Street, Melrose. Community members are welcome to attend. A $5 donation will be gratefully accepted. Refreshments will be served.

Letters to the editor

Proud of band members and thankful to residents

Dear Editor,
Many thanks to the kind-hearted and generous citizens of Wilmington who supported the WHS Wildcat Marching Band's 19th annual food drive on Saturday, November 20, 2010.

With the cooperation of both Market Basket and Lucci's Market and the giving spirit of their shoppers, we were able to present the Wilmington Community Food Pantry with 350 full bags of groceries to restock their depleted shelves, as well as the many necessary items to complete the Thanksgiving food baskets given to families in our community.

We are proud of our students who volunteered to collect the donations for six hours, as well as the Band Parents & Friends who helped. Special thanks are also due to Wilmington Market Basket Manager Mr. O'Dea, and to Mr. Lucci as well for their continuing support of the WHS Wildcat band's annual food drive.

Sincerely,
Barbara J. Mette

Outpouring of love means so much to the family

Dear Editor,
The outpouring of love and generosity following the passing of Joseph Steen has been wonderful for a great guy, husband, father, and friend. He meant so much to so many and it has shown and has helped us through our grief. We cannot thank everyone enough.

Lou,
We Marines really appreciate the boxes you have sent to us here in Afghanistan. I just wanted to take a minute out of my day and say "Thank you" to all the ones at home supporting us over here. Just knowing that great Americans take time from their daily schedule to send us these care packages truly helps build the moral here. I was in IRAQ last year and you guys also supported me there too, and I have not forgotten it. If there is anything that I can do for you all please let me know. Nice talking with you and we will continue to take the fight to the bad guys!

Mr. Louis Cimaglia,
I would like to thank you for all of the wonderful packages that I have received throughout my deployment to Afghanistan. The recent Halloween Candy continues to be a big hit with the soldiers.

My team and myself will begin our re-deploying to Massachusetts in the next few weeks. We should be home by mid-December and with our families for the Holiday Season.

I cannot begin to tell you how nice it is to receive the boxes of stuff. It has all gone to very good use and is greatly appreciated.

Thank you for everything that you and your organization continue to do to support our service members who are deployed.

Sincerely,

Wilmington Methodist Church members had their hands full unloading over 400 Christmas trees this past Saturday. All proceeds from the sales of trees are donated to a variety of charitable organizations. The tree sales are sponsored by the WUMC Outreach Committee. Last year the Outreach Committee gave away over $3,000.00 from the proceeds. This all-volunteer program keeps growing every year. Pictured here are Paul Hipple, Lance Haines, Tom Carbone, John Muise, John Arvanitis, Rev. Travis Bonnet-Kim, Bob Consorti, Scott Thomas and Megan Thomas. Tree sales start this weekend on the church lawn at 87 Church St. in Wilmington.

The Children's Theatre Workshop Presents

Fiddler On The Roof

This weekend at Wilmington Middle School

WILMINGTON - The Children's Theatre Workshop of Wilmington presents "Fiddler on The Roof" this weekend at the Wilmington Middle School. Show times are Friday December 3 at 7:00 p.m., Saturday, December 4, at 7:00 p.m. and Sunday December 5, at 2:00 p.m. Tickets are $7.00 and will be available at the door.

The musical features a superb, multi-talented cast of local middle school students who bring this wonderful story to life. The story revolves around Tevye (Ryan Walsh) a poor dairy man who finds his simple, humble world falling apart as he seeks to live out his Jewish faith in a country on the brink of the Russian Revolution and the rise of communism.

Tevye along with his wife Golde (Michelle Murray) and their five daughters (Haley D'Entremont, Chrissy Pace, Emily Burke, Chloe LeBlanc and Ashley Bonnette-Kim) live a life filled with traditions passed down from their Jewish heritage. However, traditions and customs begin to crumble as Tevye's daughters decide to "choose" their husbands (Michael Shedd, Cameron Walsh and Jeremy Frost) instead of abiding by the traditional matchmaking customs. Not only are traditions changing in his own family, but in the lives of all the Jews of Anatevka as they find themselves threatened by local authorities and eventually forced from their homes because of their religion.

The story of Fiddler on The Roof is one that speaks to the resilience of all people who find joy and happiness even in the most difficult of times.

In the end, it is the story of life as seen through the eyes of one man - Tevye, whose humor, wit, strength and unwavering devotion to God see him and his family through their darkest hour and carry them on to a new world filled with hope and promise.

Don't miss this wonderful story of family, faith and tradition - a perfect musical for the entire family this holiday season.

Castmembers of Fiddler on the Roof, a production by Wilmington Childrens Theatre Workshop, rehearse for this weekend's performances.

Your one stop for Holiday book shopping

WILMINGTON - The Book Store Next Door, Wilmington's home for used books, is now open on Wednesdays, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., and Saturdays, 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Conveniently located next to the Wilmington Memorial Library (183 Middlesex Avenue), the store always has what you're looking for.

Looking for gifts for family, friends, neighbors or co-workers this holiday season? Don't forget about the Book Store Next Door - the gently used books make great gifts. (Shhh... we won't tell they only cost $2 or less if you don't.) The Book Store Next Door also has gift certificates available for purchase in any amount. In addition, the store is selling wonderful jars of cookie mix and hot cocoa mix as part of a Friends of the Library fundraiser.

Support our troops by donating a Christmas tree through Mahoney's Garden Centers

Visit any Mahoney's by December 5 to purchase a tree for a military family

TEWKSBURY - Military families make many sacrifices, especially during the holidays. This year, help a military family by donating a Christmas tree through the Trees for Troops program offered at all of the Mahoney's Garden Centers until December 5. For only $24.50, Mahoney's will send your tree with a personal message to a military family. In addition, for every tree sold, Mahoney's will donate five dollars to The Children's Christmas Fund.

The simple gesture of buying a tree means much more to a military family. "It's a sense of knowing that someone else cares," notes Lori DeVincentis Bruschi, Marketing Director for Family, Morale, Welfare and Recreation at Fort Bragg Garrison in North Carolina where a portion of Mahoney's Garden Centers' trees were shipped last year.

"These men and women risk their lives for their country. The holidays are especially tough on the families, especially those left behind. This relieves some of the stress from the holidays," adds Bruschi.

According to Bruschi, she recalls a previous year where the trees ran out with many families still in line. The next day, Trees for Troops performed a miracle and brought another truckload of trees. "One woman, with tears in her eyes, thanked us for getting more trees. She was the wife of a soldier who was deployed, but would make it home for the Holidays. The tree was a surprise for him."

Locally, Mahoney's shipped a portion of its donated trees last year to the Boston Coast Guard station where troops are underway for months at a time.

"It was a blessing to know that someone else was thinking of our family when we received our tree last year from Trees for Troops," says Seaman Ben Merritt of the Coast Guard Cutter Escanaba out of Boston. "I was underway until Christmas Eve, leaving home my wife and two-year-old daughter. It meant so much to receive a tree for our first Christmas in our new location."

To participate in the Trees for Troops program, visit any one of Mahoney's eight Massachusetts locations in Winchester, Chelmsford, Tewksbury, Falmouth, Brighton, Osterville, Concord and Wayland. All trees are Mahoney's-grown in Nova Scotia and cut at the very last moment to preserve freshness. For more information visit www.mahoneysgarden.com or call (781) 729-5900.

Since 2005, the Trees for Troops program, in coordination with FedEx, has delivered trees to 66,733 families at over 54 bases world-wide. Become part of this world wide tradition and visit any one of Mahoney's Garden Centers eight locations by December 5 to donate a tree for a military family.

39th Annual Santa's Workshop

WILMINGTON - Santa and his elves have reserved Thursday, December 2 from 6 - 8 p.m. to receive wish lists and pose for a quick snapshot with Wilmington boys and girls. Join us in Wilmington Town Hall as we welcome this holiday season. Don't forget your camera to capture this special moment!

Local resident performs in Christmas Cantata

STONEHAM - The First Congregational Church in Stoneham's choir, along with guest musicians and vocalists, will present its annual Christmas Cantata, "One Incredible Moment" by T. Fette and M. Lucado, on Sunday, December 5, 2010 at 7 p.m. at the church on Church Street next to the Common in Stoneham. All are welcome to come rejoice in the Christmas season through this stirring cantata which pays tribute to the majesty of the manger, the splendor of the star, and the anthem of the angels as the message is proclaimed - in one incredible moment - that God has become a man.

The admission is free and refreshments will be served. A free-will offering is appreciated.

Directed by Joyce Simpson of Revere and narrated by Bernard Hutchens of Wakefield, the musical event has attracted 40 talented singers and instrumentalists from Stoneham, the north shore, and other communities and towns in Massachusetts, including Burlington, Chelsea, Everett, Malden, Medford, Melrose, Reading, Revere, Tyngsboro, Waban, Wakefield, Wayland and Wilmington.

Guest instrumentalists include Jessica Amidon on violin from Brighton, Alexander Wilkinson on oboe from Woburn, Matthew Small on trumpet from Waltham, Daniel Walker on trombone from Reading, and Kevin Murphy on drums from Wakefield.

The choir includes Andrew Thain of Wilmington.

The First Congregational Church of Stoneham was chartered in 1725. At that time, the town and the church were one entity, leading the political, social and religious life of its 300 citizens. Today, the Church continues its active role in the Stoneham community and surrounding towns serving countless families through all life events. The Church also offers a well-regarded nursery school for pre-school children and a host of other services for individuals and families in need, including the Stoneham/Board of Health Food Pantry and weekly community dinners through an interfaith program.

Richards completes ROTC course

FORT LEWIS, WA - Courtney A. Richards has graduated from the Army ROTC (Reserve Officer Training Corps) Leader Development and Assessment Course, also known as "Operation Warrior Forge," at Fort Lewis, Tacoma, WA.

The 32 days of training provide the best possible professional training and evaluation for all cadets in the aspects of military life, administration and logistical support. Although continued military training and leadership development is included in the curriculum, the primary focus of the course is to develop and evaluate each cadet's officer potential as a leader by exercising the cadet's intelligence, common sense, ingenuity and physical stamina. The cadet command assesses each cadet's performance and progress in officer traits, qualities and professionalism while attending the course.

Cadets in their junior and senior year of college must complete the leadership development course. Upon successful completion of the course, the ROTC program, and graduation from college, cadets are commissioned as second lieutenants in the U.S. Army, National Guard, or Reserve.

Richards is the daughter of Todd I. and Gail A. Richards of Peterson Way, Tewksbury. She is a 2007 graduate of Central Catholic High School, Lawrence, MA.

Cards for Kids service project

TEWKSBURY - Tewksbury Congregational Church continues its pattern of providing community service opportunities with this Saturday's Cards for Kids project, held in conjunction with their Holiday Fair. In the spirit of service and giving, they have partnered with the Cards for Kids program to create handmade cards for children in need, all over the globe. Cards for Kids was founded in 2009 by a high school Junior from Franklin, MA who had a vision of sharing a message and a smile from across the miles. In just over a year, she has facilitated the creation and delivery of more than 8,000 cards. The most recent batch is heading to Ukraine through the Orphan's Bright Star organization.

For this Saturday's event, TCC will provide all of the supplies required to create a message of hope for a child suffering from illness, homelessness, or extreme poverty. The community is invited to participate by stopping by the Cards for Kids room this Saturday from 9am-3pm. Children are warmly welcome to participate. You can learn more about Cards for Kids through their website at www.wix.com/cardsforkids/cards-for-kids.

Tewksbury Congregational Church was established in 1735 and is located in the heart of Tewksbury, across from the Town Common. Their most recent community outreach projects include October's Used Toy Drive to benefit Community Giving Tree and September's Zero Waste Day, which served eleven local non-profits. For more information on the Cards for Kids event, contact the coordinator, Maureen Keddie, at mmkeddie@gmail.com and for more information on TCC, you are invited to visit their website at www.tewksburycc.org.

New website has Shawsheen Tech info a click away

BILLERICA - Shortly after Thanksgiving, Shawsheen Valley Technical High School unveiled a brand new website. By visiting www.shawsheentech.org, users can now find just about any piece of information they need about Shawsheen Tech.

"This is fabulous," said Superintendent/Director Charles Lyons. "Young children today live in a virtual world. [The website] is the best way to make as much information available in a cost effective way. It's unbelievable."

Head of Arts and Communications Wendy Siegal-Botti and digital media teacher Greg Bendel have helped the project come to fruition, serving as the webmasters. "It's the easiest thing to use," said Bendel, who credits Neptune Web Inc. of Somerville with helping get the website off the ground. "It's going to be very beneficial to the kids."

The website will be a place to view schedules for both academic and athletic events, school cancellations, photos and student profiles. The profiles will be one of the highlights of the site as students will be featured with photos and biographical information including why those chose Shawsheen.

Siegal-Botti said the home page will be complete with banners for each of Shawsheen Tech's vocations that can easily be clicked on for more information. Other information available will be information about the night school courses offered at the school, menus for the Ram's

Head restaurant, the school's newsletter, the Rambler, and information about the cooperative education program. "It's important for a lot of different reasons," Siegal-Botti said. "It's a unifying force between the kids and the faculty and it's a good marketing tool for the vision of the school." "It's so easy to find everything," added Bendel. "There will be photo galleries and you'll even be able to apply online to the school. There's something for everybody."

Peter Donati visited Shawsheen Tech earlier this month and presented Flores, a Wilmington resident, with a refrigeration recovery system valued at $650.

ABCO recognizes Flores with award

BILLERICA - When Peter Donati, the Regional Vice President of ABCO Refrigeration in Somerville, saw a story about Shawsheen Valley Technical High School junior Mike Flores' gold-medal victory at the Skills USA national finals last spring, he just had to do something.

"I was so excited," said Donati.

So Donati and his company did something special for Flores, who won his Skills USA gold medal in HVAC and Refrigeration.

Donati visited Shawsheen Tech earlier this month and presented Flores, a Wilmington resident, with a refrigeration recovery system valued at $650.

"[Donati] just called me out of the blue," said Kevin Buckley, the lead HVAC & R instructor at Shawsheen Tech. "They were proud of a local kid doing so well and they brought him a pretty nice piece of equipment."

Flores, now a senior, was the first national HVAC champion at Shawsheen Tech in almost 20 years.

"We're very happy with him," said Buckley. "He's a good kid."

Last year, Flores worked with R.H. Young Heating and Air Conditioning in Billerica through Shawsheen Tech's cooperative education program, a position that Buckley hopes Flores can hold again this school year.

Donati, who annually hosts a Vocational Day that attracts more than 200 students from around the state, was happy to visit Shawsheen Tech in honor of Flores.

"I wanted the kid to feel good about himself," said Donati, who spoke to a group of Shawsheen students for several minutes about the trade after presenting Flores with his award. "I told [the students] that [school] is something to look forward to. You can make a lot of money in this business, but you have to put your best foot forward. Someday, [Flores] might own his own company."

OBITUARIES

Catherine I. Appleby

Loving and caring homemaker

WILMINGTON - Mrs. Catherine I. "Irene" Appleby, age 76, died Tuesday November 23, 2010 in Winchester, after a lengthy illness. Born in Cambridge, Irene was the beloved daughter of the late Winifred (Campbell) and Edwin McKinnon.

Irene was a loving and caring homemaker who not only raised her six children, cared for her eleven grandchildren and helped with her four great grandchildren, but she opened her home as a foster parent to over 100 foster children.

Irene was raised in Cambridge where she attended the Morse grade school and Cambridge Latin high school. She moved to Somerville, and has been a Wilmington resident for the last 13 years.

Irene was the beloved wife of Henry P. Appleby. Devoted mother of Ralph Daigle of Billerica, John Daigle of NY, Patty Stephens of Oregon, Harry Appleby Jr. of Wilmington, Paul Edward Appleby of Melrose and Terri Lee Appleby of California. Also survived by 11 loving grandchildren and 4 loving great grandchildren. Sister to Joanne Ryan, Carol Ann Loder, Marie Mulikin and Leonard McKinnon all of NH, and the late Barbara, Billy and Jackie McKinnon. Also survived by many loving nieces and nephews.

A funeral service was held in the Dello Russo Funeral Home, 374 Main St., Wilmington, on Saturday November 27, 2010 at 10 A.M. Burial was at Puritan Lawn Memorial Park Cemetery, Peabody.

Robert F. Roche Truck driver for the Teamster Union Local 25

WILMINGTON - Robert F. Roche, age 74, of Wilmington, died unexpectedly, Tuesday, November 23, 2010.

Born in Somerville, MA, on April 8, 1936. Bob was the cherished only child of the late Frederick and June (Dickinson) Roche. He grew up in Somerville, MA, and was a graduate of Somerville High School Class of 1954.

As a young man, Bob worked at the Roche Barrel Company which was family owned and operated until he enlisted in the United States Army during the Korean War. After serving the country, Bob was honorably discharged on September 7, 1956, and returned to Somerville.

Bob met Carol Schweinefus at a dance, the couple hit it off and were married on October 7, 1961. They moved to Wilmington in the early 1960's where they raised their four children.

Bob was a hard worker. He was employed as a truck driver for the Teamster Union Local 25 in Charlestown for over 30 years, retiring in 1988. He then started his own airport livery service "Super Shuttle" which he worked at for close to 20 years, building a nice clientele.

Bob loved to socialize and was a member of the American Legion, Knights of Columbus, and Moosehead Lodge, all in North Reading. His out-going personality led him to make new friendships wherever he went and to keep the friendships that he made throughout his earlier years, especially from his Somerville days.

Bob also enjoyed cars; he was a true "car buff" and had a knack for knowing every make and model. He also took great pride in his own automobiles, keeping them in impeccable condition and well maintained. Bob's family and friends remember him as a "die hard" Democrat and an avid sports fan, football being his favorite. If the Patriots were playing, he couldn't be disturbed. Bob was a devoted husband, a father, a grandfather, and a good friend to many. He will be truly missed.

Bob was the devoted husband of Carol (Schweinefus) Roche and beloved father of June Frechette and her husband Armand of Hudson, NH, Joseph Roche of Colorado Springs, CO, Maureen Lake and her husband Scott of Milford, NH, and Steven Roche of Kalispell, MT. He was "Papa" to Amanda and Ava Scott, Josiah Roche, and Kristen and Sharon Lake. He is also survived by his life-long friends Charlie DiChiappari and John Passanisi, both originally from Somerville, as well as many other dear friends.

Family and friends gathered at the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte. 62), Wilmington, MA, on Saturday, November 27th at 11:00 a.m. followed by a Funeral Mass at St. Thomas of Villanova Church, 126 Middlesex Ave., Wilmington, at 12:00 noon. Interment took place in Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington. Memorial donations in Bob's name may be made to Alzheimer's Association, 311 Arsenal St., Watertown, MA 02472.

Inez Mary Fresolo

Formerly of Wilmington

AIKEN, S.C. - Inez Mary (Ravagni) Fresolo, a loving mother, devoted wife, cherished family member and friend and dedicated community service volunteer, died on Wednesday, Nov. 17, 2010 in Aiken, S.C. She was 61.

Born on May 5, 1949 in Somerville, Mass., Inez was a beloved daughter of the late Charles Ravagni and Grace (Aveni) Ravagni. She was raised in Wilmington, Mass. and served in the United States Airforce from 1968 to 1971, when she was honorably discharged. In 1977, she graduated from Boston University with a degree in sociology.

A meticulous homemaker, she enjoyed gardening, sewing, reading and cooking for her family; she was known for her slow-cooked, homemade pasta sauce, which none could rival. In 2007, she moved to Aiken and became actively involved with the Women of Woodside at Woodside Plantation.

She was the sister of Charles Ravagni of Lowell, Mass., Donna Palmariello of Derry, N.H. and George Ravagni of Wilmington, Mass. She is survived by her husband Joseph Fresolo of Aiken, S.C. and her two daughters, Lauren Carter of Merrimac, Mass. and Elizabeth Carter, who is currently teaching abroad in Moscow, Russia.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, December 4, 2010 at 2pm, Abundant Life Church, 173 Church St., Wilmington, MA 01887. In lieu of flowers the family asks a donation be made in her name to one of her favorite charities. A listing will be provided at the service.

Grace Marie Russo

23 years with T. J. Maxx in Wilmington

WILMINGTON - Grace Marie (Horton) Russo, age 80, a long-time resident of Wilmington, died peacefully surrounded by her loving family on Thursday, November 25, 2010, at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital in Medford following a courageous battle with cancer.

Born in Wilmington, MA on December 22, 1929, Grace was the cherished daughter of the late Carroll and Theresa (Dulong) Horton. She was raised in Woburn and attended Woburn Schools.

Grace married Rudolph B. "Rudy" Russo on June 15, 1947, together they shared over 61 wonderful years of marriage prior to his passing in June of 2008. Grace and Rudy moved to Wilmington on Thanksgiving Day in 1955 and raised their children. Family was her number one priority.

Prior to retiring, Grace worked for T. J. Maxx in Wilmington for over 23 years. In her spare time, Grace loved to read, work on crossword puzzles, and to play pinochle where her goal was to beat her husband and brother-in-law Rico.

Grace will be fondly remembered for her kind and caring nature, devotion to family and friends, her endless amount of energy, and for her spunkiness. She was definitely one of a kind and will be missed by all.

Grace was the beloved wife of the late Rudolph B. "Rudy" Russo, devoted mother of James P. Russo of Methuen, Michael L. Russo & his wife Theresa of Wilmington, Carol A. Baldwin of Greenfield, NH, Richard Russo & his wife Marlene of Dracut, Gary Russo of California, and Tracy A. Knickle & her husband Mark of Billerica, loving "Nana" of Michelle, Eric, Danielle, Sheena, Tyler, Amanda, Alicia, Rebecca, Stephanie, Jake, Justin & Brendan, cherished "Gigi" to great-grandchildren Isabella, Benjamin, Cole Rudy, Rosalie, and Julian, dear daughter of the late Carroll & Theresa DuLong, sister of Dorothy Phelan of Groton, Rita Conlon & her husband Buddy of Woburn, Eddie Horton & his wife Rosa of California, the late Tech Sergeant Paul Horton, Elinor Cahill, and Robert Horton, mother-in-law of Jennifer Piantadosi of Leominster and Harvey Baldwin of North Conway, NH, Grace is also survived by many nieces & nephews.

Funeral Services were held at the Nichols Funeral Home, Inc., 187 Middlesex Ave. (Rte. 62), Wilmington on Monday, November 29th at 10:00 a.m. followed by interment at Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington. In lieu of flowers donations in Grace's memory may be to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, 262 Danny Thomas Place, Memphis, TN 38105.

Antonio L. Zaccagnini

Finish presser of fine wool clothing; independent self-employed television repairman

WILMINGTON - Antonio L. Zaccagnini, a long-time resident of Wilmington passed away suddenly, November 29, 2010 at the Tufts Medical Center in Boston, he was 93. Mr. Zaccagnini was the beloved husband of the late Raffaella "Fanny" (Rella) and together they shared 66 years of marriage prior to her passing in May of 2008. Born and raised in Cambridge he was one of twelve children of the late Giovanni and Antonilla (Ramasco) Zaccagnini.

Mr. Zaccagnini was a retired member of the Clothing Workers Union and worked for many years as a finish presser of fine wool clothing with the former Mel's Sportswear Co. of Medford. Mr. Zaccagnini also worked for many years as an independent self-employed television repairman. Mostly devoted to his large family, he enjoyed being the family patriarch and always looked forward to helping family members with his many talents as a handyman, assisting them with preparing their personal tax returns, or just to offer advice when needed. Mr. Zaccagnini especially enjoyed spending time with his grandchildren and great grandchildren and loved to entertain them with magic tricks over the years. He will be greatly missed.

Along with his late wife, Mr. Zaccagnini is predeceased by six brothers and sisters. He is survived by his children, Roberta Rust of California, James Zaccagnini of North Carolina, Diane Ingalls of Nashua, NH, Larry Zaccagnini of Wilmington, Lenny Zaccagnini and his wife Terrie of Billerica. He is also survived by eleven loving grandchildren and eleven loving great grandchildren. He is further survived by two sisters and two brothers.

Funeral services will be held from the Dello Russo Funeral Home 374 Main St., Wilmington, on Saturday, December 4th, at 9 a.m. followed by a funeral mass celebrated in St. Thomas of Villanova Church, 126 Middlesex Ave, Wilmington, at 10 a.m. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend. Visiting hours at the Dello Russo Funeral Home will be held on Friday, December 3rd, from 4 to 8 p.m. Services will conclude with burial at Wildwood Cemetery, Wilmington. Tewksbury Business Association annual holiday mixer

Where business and fun meet! All community businesses invited.

TEWKSBURY - The Tewksbury Business Association is proud to sponsor its second annual holiday mixer at the Tewksbury Holiday Inn, on Wednesday, December 8, 2010 from 6-9 p.m. The event is open to all local businesses interested in meeting fellow business owners and operators. Members and non-members are cordially invited to attend with business and fun in mind. Admission is $15 for members and $10 for their guests, $20 for non-members. Tables are available to showcase products for both TBA members and non-TBA members for a fee; this excludes admission, and space is limited.

The evening will be full of delicious hors d'oeuvres, cash bar, DJ and door prizes including LCD TV, digital camera, iPod shuffle and more. A large turn-out is expected!

The Tewksbury Business Association was founded in 1994 for professionals doing business in Tewksbury and surrounding towns. With over 130 members, the association meets monthly at local business establishments fostering business development, providing support, generating business leads and mentoring for local small business. Hanson Bechat, owner and operator of Neighborhood Parcel, is the current Chairman, and Sarah Gurule of Modern Auto Glass is the Vice Chairperson "We have such a great group of professionals that attend our meetings every month. Unlike other business associations, our membership fee is affordable and our meetings are dynamic, friendly and supportive; everyone always feels welcome and important to our association," said Bechat.

Tewksbury Business Association is currently looking to add more local business to their membership. There are 101 reasons to join the Tewksbury Business Association—too many to list—but here are just a few: opportunity to network, small membership fee, only one monthly meeting, unlimited local referrals, exclusive B2B discounts, your company website listed and indexed on Google and Yahoo for better site traffic and so on.

For more information and to RSVP to the holiday mixer, find us on the web at www.tewksburybusiness.com.

Holiday Concert features community band

TEWKSBURY - Throughout the month of December, the Tewksbury Public Library will be hosting holiday-themed events for adults. This 10-part series - called "Happy Holidays From Your Library" - is sure to put Tewksbury in the holiday mood.

On Wednesday, December 8 at 7 p.m., join the Chelmsford Community Band for an evening of holiday music. Come hear your favorite holiday songs performed by one of the state's most popular community bands. The Chelmsford Community Band, now in its 38th year, has performed for several years at the prestigious Boston Festival of Bands at Faneuil Hall, and was also recently selected to perform at Boston's Hatch Shell. The Band will be making its Tewksbury debut at the Tewksbury Public Library this holiday season!

Doors open at 6:45 p.m. The concert begins at 7 p.m. Registration is strongly recommended as it aids the presenter and library staff in planning. Register by stopping by the Reference Desk, calling 978-640-4490 ext. 207; or visiting the library's online calendar of events (www.tewksburypl.org). Registration is limited. Light refreshments will be provided. A door prize will be awarded. This concert is FREE thanks to the generosity of the Friends of the Tewksbury Public Library. The Friends of the Tewksbury Public Library's Friendly Little Bookshop will be open prior to this event.

Are you suffering from chronic pain due to an ingrown nail?

If your foot hurts, we can help.

Ingrown nails can be caused by incorrect nail cutting or an inherited trait that causes the nail to curve and grow into the skin. Not only is this very painful, but it can also result in infection. Unfortunately, the most common treatments for ingrown nails don't correct the shape of the nail and the problem nearly always reoccurs. Painful ingrown nails usually don't get better by themselves.

Call our office now... because your feet don't have to hurt.

Holiday dessert tasting and recipe swap

A Tewksbury Public Library event

TWEEKSBURY - Throughout the month of December, the Tewksbury Public Library will be hosting holiday-themed events for adults. This 10-part series - called "Happy Holidays from Your Library" - is sure to put Tewksbury in the holiday mood.

On Saturday, December 11 at 2 p.m., the Tewksbury Public Library will be holding its first annual holiday dessert tasting and recipe swap. Attendees will be able to:

- Share your dessert recipes: Bring copies of your favorite holiday dessert recipes to share with others. Leave with new desserts to add to your repertoire!

- Show off your baking skills: Bring your favorite holiday dessert for other attendees to indulge in.

- Sample delicious treats: Bring your appetite! While others sample your desserts, sample theirs. A great opportunity to meet with fellow local bakers!

Doors open at 1:45 p.m. The event begins at 2 p.m. Registration is required for those sharing recipes and desserts. Those not sharing do not need to register. Register by stopping by the Reference Desk or visiting the library's online calendar (www.tewksburypl.org).

Registration ends on Thursday, December 9 at 5 p.m. Light refreshments will be provided. A door prize will be awarded. This event is FREE thanks to the generosity of the Friends of the Tewksbury Public Library. The Friends of the Tewksbury Public Library's Friendly Little Bookshop will be open prior to the event.

Local members of the Sons of Italy attend State's "Purple Aster Ball"

WILMINGTON - Twenty two members of the Wilmington Sons of Italy Lodge # 2183 recently attended the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts Purple Aster Ball at Spinelli's in Lynnfield.

The event which culminates the social calendar of the Massachusetts Order Sons of Italy in America was attended by over 250 members and guests; including the new Council General of Italy Giuseppe Pastorelli and his wife Lilli, National Second Vice President Kevin Caira and his wife Cheryl of Wilmington and State President James DeStefano and State First Lady Kathy of Watertown.

The Order Sons of Italy in America is the oldest, largest and most geographically represented fraternal organization in North America with local and state lodges ranging from Maine to California and into Canada. The purpose of the Order is to enroll all eligible persons so that they may successfully promote Italian culture and national education; to organize programs for patriotic and humanitarian purposes; to combat discrimination while protecting the positive image and the prestige of people of Italian heritage.

The Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli Lodge #2183, named after Pope John XXIII, was founded on March 12, 1967 and will celebrate their 44th anniversary in 2011. The Wilmington Sons of Italy has been lauded by both the Wilmington Board of Selectmen and School Committee for its community service and generosity toward the town.

Noteworthy accomplishments include donations to the Wilmington Community Fund, the New England Aquarium pass available at the Wilmington Memorial Library, Wilmington Recreation Department, Local Hero's, Relay for Life, youth sports, Alzheimer's Association and the Cooley's Anemia Foundation. Most recently they have donated monies to repair the gazebo at the Town Common; and in the spring two new electronic scoreboards for the High School will be erected through their generosity. The new scoreboards will be in use at the WHS Scanlon Field for the Varsity Baseball team and at the Woburn Street School field for the use of the Varsity Lacrosse teams. They are also the sponsors of the Annual WHS Holiday Wrestling Tournament which will be held on December 18, 2010 at Wilmington high School.

The Wilmington Sons of Italy regularly meet once a month on the third Monday at the Villanova Hall next to St. Thomas Church on Middlesex Ave. in Wilmington at 7:30pm. Regular monthly socials are held to benefit their many charitable works. If you are interested in joining the Wilmington Sons of Italy, you can contact them at 978-657-8572 or find them at www.osia-ma.org/Wilmington.

Holiday Drop-Off For Wilmington Food Pantry

On Friday, December 3rd, the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce will host their 2nd Annual Member Appreciation Luncheon at Windsor Place of Wilmington from 12 noon - 2pm.

Once again, Chamber members have committed to providing 60 canned hams to the Wilmington Food Pantry for holiday food packages to Wilmington residents in need.

To ensure we reach our goal of 60 hams, we are asking the community to help out too.

If you would like to donate to this worthy cause, please drop off a canned ham prior to December 3rd at Windsor Place of Wilmington Assisted Living, 92 West Street.

Together we can ensure everyone in Wilmington has a happy holiday!

Our commitment to responsible banking goes beyond insuring your deposits in-full; it means contributing to the communities we serve.

Join Reading Co-operative Bank employees and the Wilmington Community Fund Pantry by stopping by our Wilmington office with non perishable items.

The Wilmington Community Fund Pantry "wish list" includes:

- Mustard
- Mayonnaise
- Relish
- Ketchup
- Canned fruit
- Brownie mix
- Baked beans
- Cereal

Wilmington Senior Topics

Welcome to the month of December! The following are some fun events we would like to share with you from Wilmington Department of Elderly Services.

A Christmas Carol Holiday Party

This year's Annual Holiday Party will be held at the Buzzell Senior Center on Tuesday, December 29, 2009 at 11:30 a.m. for a delicious sit-down luncheon from Rocco's and a Christmas Carol reading from the Delvena Theater Company. The Delvena Theatre Company will present a dramatic reading of A Christmas Carol at the Buzzell Senior Center, 15 School Street, on Wednesday, December 29, at 1:00 p.m.

Watch in fascination as Marley comes back from the dead to help Scrooge amend his miserly ways here on earth and transform himself into a pleasant, giving old gentleman. With the help of three ghosts - the Ghost of Christmas Past, Ghost of Christmas Present and the Ghost of Christmas Future - the audience will be mesmerized as old Scrooge takes a long look at his life and reevaluates its path. Classic Christmas music will put the finishing touch on this wonderful message of hope and love - so fitting for the Christmas season! A Christmas Carol will be performed, complete with period costumes, by Lynne Moulton, Joseph Zamparelli, Jr. and Fran Baron.

Tickets are $7.00 per person and are available now for purchase at the Buzzell Senior Center. Space is limited.

Special Holiday Homebound Meals

We would like to thank the Danvers Bank "Courtesy Crew" and Buzzell Senior Center volunteers in advance for donating their time to delivering over 100 Special Homebound Meals catered by Uptown Deli on Thursday, December 2, 2010 sponsored by the Department of Elderly Services. The elders of Wilmington are extremely appreciative and they wouldn't be able to enjoy this meal without the "team effort" of all those involved in making this a success.

Kiwanis Holiday Luncheon

The Department of Elderly Services would like to extend a big thanks to the Kiwanis Club for once again hosting a holiday luncheon this upcoming Sunday, December 5, at the Buzzell Senior Center. It is a great way to kick off the holiday season with good food and good friends. Thank you again!

Annual Giving Tree

This holiday season there will be our "Annual Giving Tree," a special tree in our lobby holding written ornaments stating needed gifts for the elders of Wilmington. The community has given over 10 years of support to this yearly program. Feel free to come down and choose an ornament from the tree and then bring your prepared gift back to the center wrapped for the holidays. Please have the prepared packages at the center by week of December 13, to make sure they will be delivered in time. These gifts are personally delivered to bring a bit of holiday cheer to Wilmington elders. If you should know anyone who could benefit from this program please feel free to contact Terri Marciello at 978-657-7595. There are no names given out to the public; everything is kept confidential. The past several years have been overwhelming in support from the community and the appreciation from the elderly participants. Thanks in advance to the many residents who help make this event possible.

Holiday Crafts Fair Success

After our successful Holiday Craft Fair on Saturday, November 20, 2010, the Department of Elderly Services is all decorated and feeling the holiday spirit!

Due to the tremendous support of vendors, local businesses (Lucci's, Elia's, Castellano's) and volunteers this year was a HUGE success. All proceeds raised go directly towards the programs and events for the Department.

The big raffle winners were:
• Joan Downs - Donald Duck Lawn Ornament

- Celia Conrad - Sylvester Lawn Ornament
- Ms. Speranza - Tweety Bird Lawn Ornament
- Judy Downs - Homemade Gingerbread Basket
- Melissa Firicano - Boston Bruins Jersey
- Pat D'Antonio - Boston Bruins Watch and Hat
- Stacey King - Ceramic Christmas Tree
- Marge King - Sewing Organization
- Donald Protopapas - Homemade Quilt

Live Performance from Strings Attached and High School Chorus

On Wednesday, December 15, at 1:00 p.m., the Department of Elderly Services will be hosting "Strings Attached" Wilmington High School students for a performance orchestrated by Ward Dillmore, Wilmington Music Department. Elders will be able to enjoy a wonderful, live performance from the students as well by the Wilmington High School Chorus led by WHS Music/Drama Director, Jason Luciana. The afternoon will be followed by Gingerbread House Fun joined by Wilmington High School Medical Career Group and Sue Rowe, High School Nurse and WHS Club led by Lisa Desberg, Wilmington High School English Department. Please sign up at the Front Desk.

SISTERS ACT

Sisters Ashley & Sydney Pelletier along with sisters Jordan & Lacey Marr, all of whom are from Wilmington, will perform this weekend Saturday, December 4th at 3 p.m. and 7 p.m. in the Albany Berkshire Ballet's production of the Nutcracker at the Collins Center for the Performing Arts, 100 Shawsheen Road, Andover, MA.

For more information call 413-445-5382 or 877-390-5382 BerkshireBallet.org

Intake Day at Upscale Consignment Monday; Zingo Workers meeting changed; Fuel Assistance

Those traveling on the Mohegan Sun day trip next Monday, December 6th are reminded that the bus shall depart from the Senior Center at 7:00 AM sharp. Tickets for the Tuesday, January 4th Foxwood trip will go on sale the following Monday, December 13th at 8:15 AM. The trip cost is $21 per person.

The Upscale Consignment Boutique will hold its "Intake of Items" day next Monday, December 6th from 3:00 to 7:00 PM. Consignors are reminded to obtain a number when arriving at the Center. The shop has some great holiday outfits and items and will be adding to its inventory on intake day. Start your holiday shopping here.

The Snooti Patooti Gift Shoppe at the Senior Center has a lovely line of new items as well as holiday items priced right for the pocket-book. Watch next week for the Gift Shoppe extended holiday hours. If one is looking for something different, this is the place to shop. There are also numerous local artisan pieces for purchase.

Harvard Pilgrim will conduct an informational seminar at the Senior Center next Tuesday, December 7th at 10:00 AM. The representative will be talking about open enrollment and Harvard Pilgrim's supplemental insurance. If planning to attend, please call the Senior Center and have your name placed on the attendance list.

A Zingo Worker's meeting was scheduled for December 7th at 10:00 AM. However, due a conflicting commitment, the Director has changed the meeting time to 10:45 AM. The meeting will take place in the Fabric Arts room.

The COA and Friends Annual Christmas Dinner will be held next Friday, December 10th. The last day to get a ticket will be Monday, December 6th. Tickets are $15 per Tewksbury Senior and $25 per guests of our Seniors. Music for dancing will be provided by Jim Sutton and the Perfect Match Band.

Next Thursday, December 9th, is the last day that one may obtain a ticket for the following events at the Senior Center:

The Golden Age Club Christmas Party of December 14th - tickets are free for members and $5 for non-members (please note that everyone must have a ticket);

The Red Hat Carnation Belles Christmas Dinner - tickets are $25 per Belle.

Dr. Smith will conduct a Podiatry Clinic on Saturday, December 11th. There are several opening still available for this clinic. Prior registration is required as well as the $15 co-payment. Appointment times are given when one registers.

On Monday, December 13th, there will be a Senior Citizen MEMA Volunteer Training held at Area I on Hospital grounds. The meeting will begin at 8:30 AM. MEMA Volunteers are asked to contact Linda Brabant to confirm attendance at this training.

The Friends of the Elderly will hold a Razzle Dazzle New Year's Eve Party on Friday, December 31. Tickets are $45 per person and include a plentiful buffet dinner, dancing to the music of Pete Saran and The New Life Band and all the sparkles of a New Year's celebration. New Year's tickets will be sold up through December 22 or while they last.

Tewksbury Senior Citizens wishing to apply for Fuel Assistance may call the Senior Center at 978-640-4480. Younger residents from Tewksbury, Wilmington and Billerica may call the Billerica Veteran's Agent at 978-671-0968 or 0969 to apply. The maximum income allowed for 1 person is $30,751; for 2 people $40,123; for 3 people $49,675 and so on. When appointments are made, one will be told what paperwork is needed for the application intake.

SHINE Counselor, Jill, is at the Senior Center on Tuesday afternoons and is seen by appointment only. To arrange an appointment, one may call the Senior Center at 978-640-4480. The SHINE Counselor is available to advise Senior Citizens on medical insurance options.

Have a great week. God Bless America.

Hunting and Fishing licenses available

TEWKSBURY - Town Clerk, Mary-Ann Nichols, announces that the 2011 Hunting & Fishing (Sporting) licenses are available at the Town Clerk's Office, Town Hall, 1009 Main Street. Office hours are Monday through Thursday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

First-time hunters need to show a Certificate of Competency from the Hunter Education Bureau and previously licensed hunters seeking to purchase hunting or sporting license's need to show a Certificate of Competency, or a previous hunting/sporting license.

Under the new law, an F.I.D. card or a license to carry card are no longer accepted.

Please be advised that all previous years licenses are returned to the Division of Fisheries and Wildlife Field Headquarters (508-792-7270).

This Sunday, December 5, from 1:00 to 4:00 p.m., the Friends of Harnden Tavern present their Annual Holiday Social at the Harnden Tavern. Seen here, Mary Baldwin, Thelma McCulloch and Bunny Gomes had a snack at the Harnden Tavern Holiday Open House last year. The Friends have been presenting this event for over twenty years. Danversbank kicks off Toys for Tots gift drive DANVERS - Danversbank has announced that for the second year in a row, all of its locations will be collecting gifts for Toys for Tots this holiday season. Danversbank is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Danvers Bancorp, Inc. (NASDAQ: DNBK).

The mission of the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve Toys for Tots Program is to collect new, unwrapped toys each year, for distribution as Christmas presents to needy children in the community in which the campaign is conducted. Danversbank has branches in twenty different communities where the help will be directed.

Toys for Tots collection boxes are now set up in each Danversbank branch lobby.

The deadline for dropping new, unwrapped toys in them is Monday, December 13th, to allow for pick-up and distribution in time for the holidays.

Local Danversbank branches and drop-off addresses are as follows:

Reading: 31 Harnden Street
Wilmington: 247 Main Street
Woburn: 400 W Cummings Park

Festival of Trees

READING - Now in its ninth year, Reading's popular Festival of Trees event returns December 4 and 5 at Parker Middle School, 45 Temple Street, Reading.

Please stop by and enjoy the beautifully decorated, themed trees generously donated by local residents, organizations, neighborhoods and businesses. Buy a raffle ticket (or many!) and bid on your favorite trees on Sunday evening the winners will be drawn and you could be taking home a decorated tree! Kids can participate in a scavenger hunt, decorate cookies, and listen to wonderful holiday stories told by Reading teachers!

Sponsored by the Reading Technology and Education Foundation, Inc. (RTEF), this important fund raising event not only spreads a little holiday cheer, but also is the RTEF's major fundraiser, supporting Reading's teachers, by funding teacher initiated technology grants. Please help us reward our teachers' initiative and raise as much money as we can!

Workshop at WHS to discuss Women in the Workforce

WILMINGTON - The Issues Confronting Young Women Series was developed in 2010 by Marissa Bortone and Lisa Desberg (both English teachers) with the goal of empowering the female students of WHS to be strong, confident, independent young women. Each month, they host a 1 hour workshop in the school library focused on a specific topic pertinent to young females. So far this year, they have hosted two workshops: Healthy Relationships and Female Health: Physical, Emotional, and Nutritional. They encourage a comfortable, respectful environment with lots of open, honest dialogue and, of course, snacks! They are also happy to say that many of WHS's female staff members come to the workshops to show their support.

The next workshop, Women in the Workforce, will be held on Thursday, December 2nd from 2:15 to 3:15. They have about 17 female professionals lined up to discuss their careers and answer questions from students. Their professionals run the gamut - undertaker, lawyer, yoga instructor, nurse, chiropractor, librarian, psychiatrist, and the list goes on. They hope to see WHS female students there. With any questions, please contact Marissa Bortone (Marissa.Bortone@wilmington.k12.ma.us, 694-6060 ext. 220) or Lisa Desberg (Lisa.Desberg@wilmington.k12.ma.us, 694-6060 ext. 372).

Three to receive awards for community service

WILMINGTON - Saint Elizabeth's Episcopal Church will present three Saint Elizabeth's Community Service Awards on Sunday, December 5, 2010.

These awards are given for outstanding service to the communities served by the church. This year, the recipients are:

Lou Cimaglia, founder and president of Local Heroes, Inc. for his work on behalf of our military both at home and abroad.

Barbara Mette, a teacher at Wilmington High School, for her work with the Wilmington Wildcat Bands, and Anita Dillulo, a teacher at Wilmington Middle School, for her work with the Wilmington Wildcat Bands.

These awards are given each year in celebration of the spirit of Saint Elizabeth of Hungary, for whom the church in Wilmington is named. Elizabeth of Hungary was a thirteenth-century member of the Hungarian and German royalty who devoted her energy and fortune to the assistance of the sick and poor. Her work included feeding the hungry, building a hospital, and creating the first orphanage in Central Europe. Raised to a life of privilege, she chose service to others instead.

Each of the recipients provides an example of service that the church feels should be recognized and celebrated. The awards will be given during the Sunday worship service, which starts at 10 a.m.

Suspect found dead in his family's home

alert nearby residents of the situation.

According to Begonis, police attempted for more than an hour to negotiate with Fama, but he never responded. Police shot tear gas into the home prior to making entry, as is procedure in such a situation. Upon entry, at approximately noon, Fama was discovered with a self-inflicted gun shot wound. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

The scene was turned over to the Middlesex County State Police for forensic investigation. Evidence technicians from the State Police Crime Scene Services Section and State Police ballistics were en route to the home as the Crier went to print.

The make and model of the gun was not released to the press, nor to whom the gun was registered. Begonis stated that Scott Fama is not licensed to own firearms, and he declined to confirm or deny that Wilmington Police have removed weapons from that home in the past.

Tarr to lead Senate Republicans

Resources and Agriculture, the Joint Committee on Health Care Financing, the Joint Committee on Judiciary, the Joint Committee on Telecommunication, Utilities and Energy, and the Joint Committee on Veterans and Federal Affairs and as a Senate member of The Committee on Ethics and Rules.

Tarr is often seen in Wilmington at various events, including Veterans Day ceremonies, Memorial Day ceremonies, and the Wilmington Good Guy dinner, to name just a few.

"I still look forward to spending a great deal of time in Wilmington," said Tarr. "I'd like to thank the citizens of Wilmington for returning me to the State House and putting me in a position of strength to be able to seek this role and obtain it."

His colleagues were quick to offer support for Tarr as the Senate's next Minority Leader.

"I am proud to support Senator Tarr and look forward to working with him and my fellow Republicans in the State Senate to ensure an open and thorough debate on the issues we face as a Commonwealth," State Senator Michael Knapik (R-Westfield) offered. "Despite our numbers, we will continue to fight for responsible government policies and to promote an atmosphere of accountability where the majority party answers to the public and on the record."

Tarr is considered by his supporters to be an unyielding advocate for fiscal discipline and reform. In the past legislative session he fought to reform the Essex County Regional Retirement Board, to prevent state benefits from being provided to illegal immigrants, and to cut the costs of state government through a broad array of reforms, including health care cost containment.

"I unequivocally support Bruce Tarr as leader of the Senate Minority caucus," said Senator Richard Ross (R-Wrentham). "His firm and steadfast approach, plus his ability to seek consensus within our group, will be our success. I look forward to working with him."

Widely recognized for his ability to craft and advance policy, Tarr has played major roles in securing the passage of legislation such as Melanie's Law (drunk driving), Jessica's Law (physical crimes against children), and measures addressing stem cell research, alternative energy and economic development. Most recently he authored and secured the passage of legislation to increase organ donation and was one of the architects of economic development legislation that provides tax relief to Massachusetts small businesses and consumers.

Tarr said that the Senate's four Republicans will be energized to play an active role in the legislative process, and will continue to develop and advocate for reforms.

"Our tremendous fiscal challenges demand that we pursue every opportunity to enact reforms, and to innovate in ways that make sense and save money," Tarr said. "We have major roles to play in the coming legislative session and every member of our caucus will be fully and tirelessly engaged in those roles."

Tarr's district includes the city of Gloucester and the towns of Boxford, Essex, Georgetown, Groveland, Hamilton, Ipswich, Manchester-by-the-Sea, Middleton, Newbury, North Reading, Rockport, Rowley, Wenham, West Newbury, Wilmington and precincts 2, 3, 5 and 7 in the town of North Andover.

Crier.

Guy estimates that the boy was in the water about twenty minutes before being pulled out.

"I was just happy to get the kid out of the water. I didn't want to panic. It was kind of scary listening to a kid screaming for help. I just kept yelling to him as I worked my way to him," said Guy. "I already had him out of the water and on the other side of Muddy River before the fire and rescue crews came."

Naples Fire and Rescue transported the boy to Bridgton Hospital in Bridgton to be checked out. The incident occurred around 12:30 p.m. but the boy went home just a few hours later and stopped by the house.

"His parents were grateful," said Guy.

Fortunately, the swift reaction of Collins and Guy, coupled with relatively shallow depth, helped bring a happy ending to this cautionary tale. "Sometimes it's just better to react to something like that than just sit around and wait," finished Guy.

Guy owns Auto Repair Guy, at 555 Main Street in Wilmington, specializing in automobile, truck, and marine repair.

Affordable Housing available

condo fees.

In this case, the home is being sold by a clearing house that the Department of Housing and Community Development (DHCD), a state agency, which contracts with as the primary state organization for the development of affordable housing. Under the 40B deed restriction, if the owner of an affordable unit is interested in selling, he must notify the state, because the state holds the right of first refusal. If the state is unable to find a buyer for the unit then the state and the town have the right to purchase the property. With tight budgets and a lean economy, however, it is unlikely that the town or state would make such a purchase.

Affordable units count toward the town's 10 percent affordable housing stock quota required under Chapter 40B. If a home does not sell during the option period, it can be listed as a market price unit with a traditional real estate agent, but it then risks being removed from the affordable housing stock. With the census completed this year, most towns in Massachusetts will likely find that the growth in population will also necessitate an increase in affordable housing to keep pace with the 10 percent requirement.

DHCD has contracted with Metropolitan Boston Housing Partnership as the listing agent for one of the properties. Though functioning as an agent, the organization will not collect a commission on the sale.

"However, they do screen potential buyers to ensure that they meet the eligibility requirements to purchase the property," said Wilmington Planning and Conservation Director, Carole Hamilton. "The agency puts the buyers and seller together, assists with the Purchase and Sale, any appraisals, and so forth."

Interested buyers wishing to visit the Pouliot Place home must first register with the agency by filling out an application, which also includes a pre-approval for a mortgage. Potential buyers may not look at homes unless they first register, but once that is done, much of the paperwork is already complete.

This home is being sold on a first come, first served basis, not through a lottery process. The home has two bedrooms, 1.5 bathrooms, and is 1,142 square feet. The marketer, Jennifer Shaw at Metropolitan Boston Housing Partnership, describes the home as having a fully appliance kitchen with a stove, refrigerator, dishwasher, and garbage disposal. Other amenities included in the description include a washer/dryer hook-up, a finished room in the basement, new vinyl flooring throughout the home, as well as a living room, dining room, off street parking, a front porch and rear deck, along with a large, fenced-in back yard with a sprinkler/irrigation system.

The sale price of the home is $184,800 (appraised market value is $264,000).

Income limits are as follows: one person $46,300, two person household $52,950, three person household $59,550, four person household $66,150, five person household $71,450, and six person household $76,750.

"This is likely for a single parent and a child or two, a two or three person household, or even a single person," explained Hamilton. "The good thing, is that you would be hard pressed to find a home that you can own outright - not a rental or a condo with fees - that is under $200,000."

"This is about opportunity," finished Hamilton, adding, "so that children and grandchildren can afford to live in town."

Hamilton added that there is also new construction affordable housing available on the newly developed Jacques Lane, located off of Lake Street. Two units, one a single family and the other a half-duplex, are selling for $197,000 each, though neither will be ready for occupancy before spring. Both units have three bedrooms and 2.5 bathrooms. Hamilton told the Crier that sometimes the developers must go to a waiting list to fill a unit.

Hamilton believes that any waiting list for these two units is "very short." LA Associates, located in Wilmington, will do all the pre-screening for potential buyers of affordable units.

Anyone wishing for more information about the home in Shawsheen Commons please contact Jennifer Shaw at Metropolitan Boston Housing Partnership: jennifer.shaw@mbhp.org or call 617-425-6637. Those who desire more information about two homes at Jacques Lane should contact LA Associates, Inc. at 978-658-6246.

Wildcats fall in 77th Turkey Game

Late push not enough

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

WILMINGTON — It may not go down as a classic, like the one 20 years ago, but in the end it turned out to be a pretty good ball game. Tewksbury, led by strong performances by seniors Anthony Arcari, Sean Connolly, Ryan Vibber and junior Derek Tarpey — who made the game saving tackle — defeated the Wilmington Wildcats, who after a dismal first half, played very well in the second half, only to fall short 26-21 in the 77th annual Thanksgiving Football Game played between the two non-league rivals at Wilmington's Alumni Field last Thursday morning.

Arcari scored two touchdowns, including an 83-yard kick-off return just seconds after Wilmington scored to cut the deficit to five points, while Connolly was very efficient all game long connecting on 9-of-12 passes for 105 yards and rushing for 51 yards. Vibber, on the other hand, tossed a TD pass, caught a big 31 yard pass and made a huge interception with 1:23 to go at the 12 yard line as Wilmington was putting together a quick and successful last minute drive.

Then after Tewksbury went three-and-out, Wilmington got the ball back again with 55 seconds left at its own 40 yard line. Two plays later, Tarpey made a huge tackle on Kevin Moriarty, who was trying to break down the left hand side on a screen pass, and three plays later, the game was over and Tewksbury celebrated with its third straight consecutive win after losing six straight.

"I think that says everything about them," said Redmen head coach Brian Aylward about the character of his team. "To lose six games in a row and then come back and play like we did in the final three games, with the enthusiasm that we had in practice is just a credit to the kinds of kids that we have and the senior group that we have."

Tewksbury had many stars in this game, but one that doesn't show up in the box score was Tarpey, who changed direction to make that huge tackle as Moriarty probably would have gone free down the field.

"Tarpey made that huge play — (Wilmington) made that perfect call and it was good timing and it's a play that we always like to do as you get a lot of guys overplaying that one side and you come back to it," said Aylward. "And hey (Wilmington) is a good team. They are well coached, their kids are tough and this wasn't a surprise that it came down to the end."

While Tewksbury had the multiple of stars, the best player on the field Thursday was Kevin Moriarty. The Wildcat senior back played arguably his best game of his brilliant career, ending it with 128 rushing yards on 20 carries including scoring two touchdowns. On the final play of the third quarter, he gained seven yards going to his left on a carry which put him over the 1,000 yard mark for the season. He ended the season with 1,045 rushing yards.

As good as Moriarty was, Wilmington couldn't get much going both offensively and defensively as a team in the first half. The Wildcats had a golden chance to take control of the game early on as Tewksbury fumbled the opening kick-off with Alex Furlong pouncing on the loose ball on the Redmen 11 yard line. On the first play from scrimmage, quarterback Sean Hanley (8-of-16 for 91 yards) ran in an 11-yard bootleg going to his left but the touchdown was called back on a penalty. The Wildcats were flagged for another penalty and three plays later, Chris Frissore missed a 28-yard field goal attempt.

"Penalties early on killed us as we had a touchdown called back, and I got to be honest with you, I'm not sure how you say it but we had a ridiculous amount of penalties called on us," said Wildcat head coach Mike Barry. "(Tewksbury also) had a lot — but I think the penalties took us out of our flow, and I give Tewksbury credit because they were able to keep their flow (despite the penalties). We just didn't play good defense early on and they made some good plays."

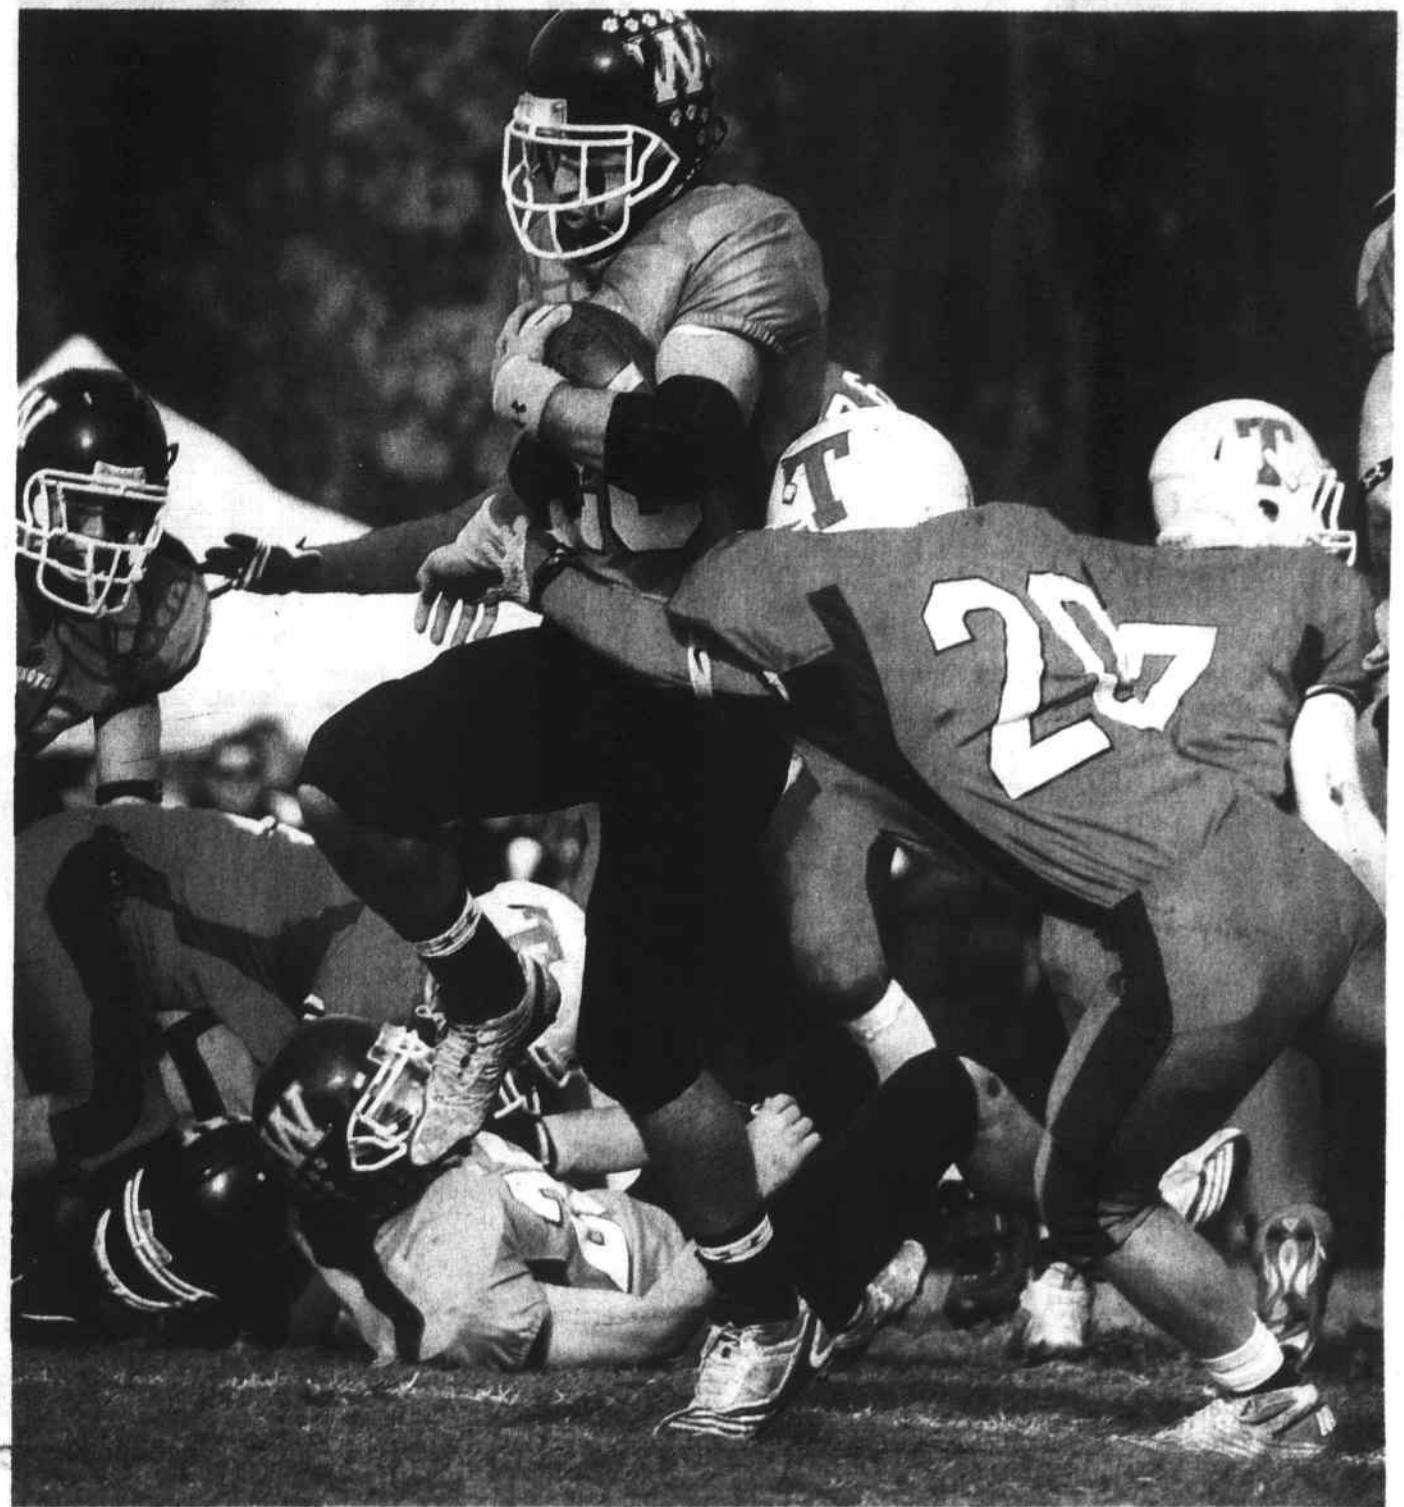

Tewksbury then responded with a very important, long drive that went 80 yards on 11 plays and lasted 7:52 including four first downs. Connolly completed big pass plays to Joe Hulme for 17 yards and Chris Bettano for 13 yards, and then on second-and-eight from the Wilmington 21, Connolly flipped the ball to Vibber who came in motion from the left side, and he tossed up a wobbly ball to the right end zone, and tight end Kevin Saunders came racing over to grab the floater for the 21-yard halfback option TD pass giving Tewksbury a 6-0 lead.

Wilmington was able to move the ball on its ensuing drive but on fourth down from the Tewksbury 35, Tarpey sacked Hanley and the ball came loose and Rob Pruyn gobbled it up giving Tewksbury the ball on its own 44. Four plays later, Arcari went untouched for a 27-yard touchdown run giving Tewksbury a 12-0 lead with 5:47 left in the second quarter.

But Wilmington didn't lay down. Moriarty returned the ensuing kick-off 65 yards, thanks in part to a terrific block by Killian Smith putting the ball on the Redmen 23 yard line. Four plays later, Moriarty finished what he started with a 1-yard TD run going to his left, and Frissore's PAT kick was good making it 12-7 with 3:42 left in the half.

Again Tewksbury stormed right back. This time the Redmen strung together a 9-play, 73-yard drive, with the big play coming as Connolly hit Vibber with a 30-yard completion on third down just short of midfield. That eventually set up Chris Bettano's 2-yard touchdown run, and Sean McCarthy's kick was good and Tewksbury had a comfortable 19-7 halftime lead.

Wilmington got things going in the second half, and not only played much better but made this one a contest. The Wildcats started the third quarter with a 11-play, 65-yard drive, all the while without running back John Parsons, who was hobbling with an ankle injury. Hanley made a great cut for a huge 21-yard gain in the drive, and three plays later he found Frissore open on a quick slant from 10 yards out and after Frissore's kick, the scoreboard read Tewksbury 19-14 with 5:27 left. Fourteen seconds later, it read Tewksbury 26-14 after Arcari's 83-yard kick-off return score.

Wilmington High senior running back Kevin Moriarty rushed for 128 yards and scored two touchdowns, but that wasn't enough as Tewksbury topped the Wildcats 26-21 during last Thursday's 77th annual Thanksgiving game played at Alumni Field. (photo by Luongphoto.com).

"Anytime you fight your butt off to get down there and score on a great drive, and then all of a sudden you give an easy (touchdown) back, it's not what you want to do," said Barry. "We knew Tewksbury was a good team — we just can't be making those mistakes. Those happened and it is what it is."

Wilmington turned the ball over on downs at the Tewksbury 35, and after forcing the Redmen to a three-and-out, the Wildcats responded when Moriarty finished an 8-play, 55-yard drive with a 3-yard touchdown, and the Frissore PAT kick made it 26-21 with 8:40 to go in the game.

Tewksbury had to punt on its next possession, giving Wilmington the ball at its own 20 with 3:28 to go. Hanley marched his team right up the field including a big 31-yard completion to Frissore, but two plays later Vibber intercepted his next pass.

"Vibber had probably the worst Thanksgiving game start anyone could possibly have, and he comes back and makes a couple of huge plays, with several big catches and then he makes that big interception," said Aylward.

Wilmington did get the ball back one last time with 55 seconds left, and after a 10-yard completion to Frissore, the Wildcats couldn't get any other yards behind the big tackle by Tarpey, and then three incompletion including one spike to kill the clock. Tewksbury took over on downs with seconds left, and Connolly took a knee to give Tewksbury the victory.

"Connolly was as awesome out here as he was two years ago," said Aylward. "This is a good field for him and he found some things that were huge plays for us when we really needed it."

Wilmington finished with an 8-3 overall record while playing in its final season in the Cape Ann League.

"We finished 8-3 and we had a great season and the seniors did a lot of great things," said Barry. "We just wish we could have sent these seniors off with one final win."

Thanksgiving Football Game

Familiar and new faces pack the stands

By CHRIS RICCIARDI
Sports Correspondent

WILMINGTON — Joel Altavesta wore cleats and a Tewksbury Redmen football jersey during his last visit to Wilmington's Alumni Field. This year, he was an ordinary spectator, wearing a jacket and a pair of sneakers.

"It is crazy not to be playing in the game," Altavesta said, "but it's Thanksgiving and I'm excited."

Altavesta, now a sophomore at Springfield College, previously played for Tewksbury High from 2005 to 2008. He was a premier running back in the Merrimack Valley Conference, rushing for 1,386 yards and 16 touchdowns during his senior year. In his final Thanksgiving Day game, Altavesta led the 3-8 Redmen to an upset over the 9-2 Wildcats in Wilmington. He ran for 189 yards in that game.

"I played pretty good in my (last) game," Altavesta said. "Our season didn't go very well, but we won (on Thanksgiving), so that's all that matters."

So far, Altavesta has mostly been limited to the sidelines during his college career. Altavesta, who plays as a halfback, played in five games as a freshman. Next year, he'll likely see more action on the football field.

"College is going pretty good," Altavesta said. "I started a few games and I played pretty decent. I didn't start this year; I probably should win the starting position next year. We went 8-2 this year."

What would happen if

Altavesta was playing in this year's game?

"I don't know, hopefully we would win," Altavesta said, laughing. "I would try my best. My little brother Daniel is doing what I can't do right now (by playing in the game)."

Daniel and the rest of his Tewksbury teammates went on to do something Joel was able to do, and that's come away with a victory on Turkey Day.

Shawsheen going for Div. 4 State Championship

Defeat Madison Park for fourth straight shut out

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

SUDBURY - History was made on the artificial turf of Lincoln Sudbury High School on Tuesday night. For the first time since 1978 the Shawsheen Tech football team clinched a spot in the Super Bowl, winning their first ever MIAA playoff game with a 21-0 victory over Madison Park in the semi-finals of the Division 4 playoffs.

Shawsheen improved to 10-1 on the season with the win, while Boston North League champion Madison Park finished their season at 8-2. The Commonwealth Athletic Conference Large champion Rams will now move on to the Division 4 Super Bowl where they will take on Mayflower Large champion Blue Hills Regional of Canton. Blue Hills, with a record of 10-1 on the season, earned a bye into the title game.

As they have throughout the second half of the season, the Rams dominated from start to finish in this contest, out-gaining their opposition by a margin of 306-59. A pair of missed field goal attempts and a turnover in Madison Park territory kept the game from being the same type of blowout the Rams have enjoyed in recent weeks, but they were never threatened limiting the Cardinals to two total first downs in the game, while they picked up 16 of their own.

Shawsheen dominated on both sides of the ball, piling up 244 yards on the ground, including 119 from junior running back Andrew Dascoli and 103 and a touchdown from junior Steve Reynolds of Wilmington.

Defensively the Rams earned their fourth consecutive shutout and held their opponents to under 100 yards of total offense for the fifth consecutive game.

"Our offensive line and our running backs all blocked so well and of the course the kids did a great job running the ball, Costabile said. "And defensively we were so well prepared. Coach (Jim) Sullivan and the staff did such a great job of preparing the kids and they kids did a great job executing the game plan."

Shawsheen took a 14-0 half-time lead and added a score on their first series of the third quarter to extend their lead to 21-0 before closing the deal with the continued dominance of their rock solid defense.

Costabile is no stranger to high school Super Bowls, having led his Bishop Fenwick teams to title games in 1995 and 1996, but this berth with this team was very satisfying to the veteran coach who is in his 12th year at Shawsheen.

"I am just so proud of these players and the coaches," Costabile said. "I have never been prouder of a staff or a group of players."

The Rams dominance started from the opening whistle, as they held Madison Park to a three and out on their first possession. The Rams took control on offense as well, going on an eight play 61 yard drive to take the lead on their first possession of the game. Dascoli and Reynolds did the bulk of the work on the drive, picking up nice chunks of yardage with each carry, and then with the Cardinals keying on the run, quarterback Ryan Woolaver of Wilmington rolled out to his right and connected with Devin Connearney on a six yard touchdown pass with 4:50 left in the first quarter to give the Rams a 7-0 lead after Devonn Pratt's extra point kick.

"It was important for us to get off to a good start," Costabile said. "We came out and established ourselves right from the start."

A big defensive play Connearney for a loss of six yards on Madison Park's next possession forced another three and out Shawsheen went right back to attacking the Cardinals with their ground game once again, this time going on an eight play, 56 yard drive to extend their lead to 14-0. Once again it was Dascoli and Reynolds doing the damage with Dascoli carrying for the first three plays of the drive and Reynolds taking over for the final five plays, including the one yard burst up the middle on the first play of the second quarter to give the Rams the two touchdown lead. Reynolds continued his all around fine play on the night on the Cardinals next possession recovering a fumble at the Madison Park 29 yard line, but the Rams could not take advantage of the field position, as the Cardinals defense stepped up with a sack of Woolaver to end the threat.

On the ensuing possession Madison Park had their biggest threat of the game, moving deep into Shawsheen territory after a 61 yard run by Isaiah White. But after the play, the first of six personal foul penalties on the night against Madison Park moved them back to the Ram 30 yard line and from there they moved back eight yards after a penalty and a fine defensive play by Connearney on fourth down.

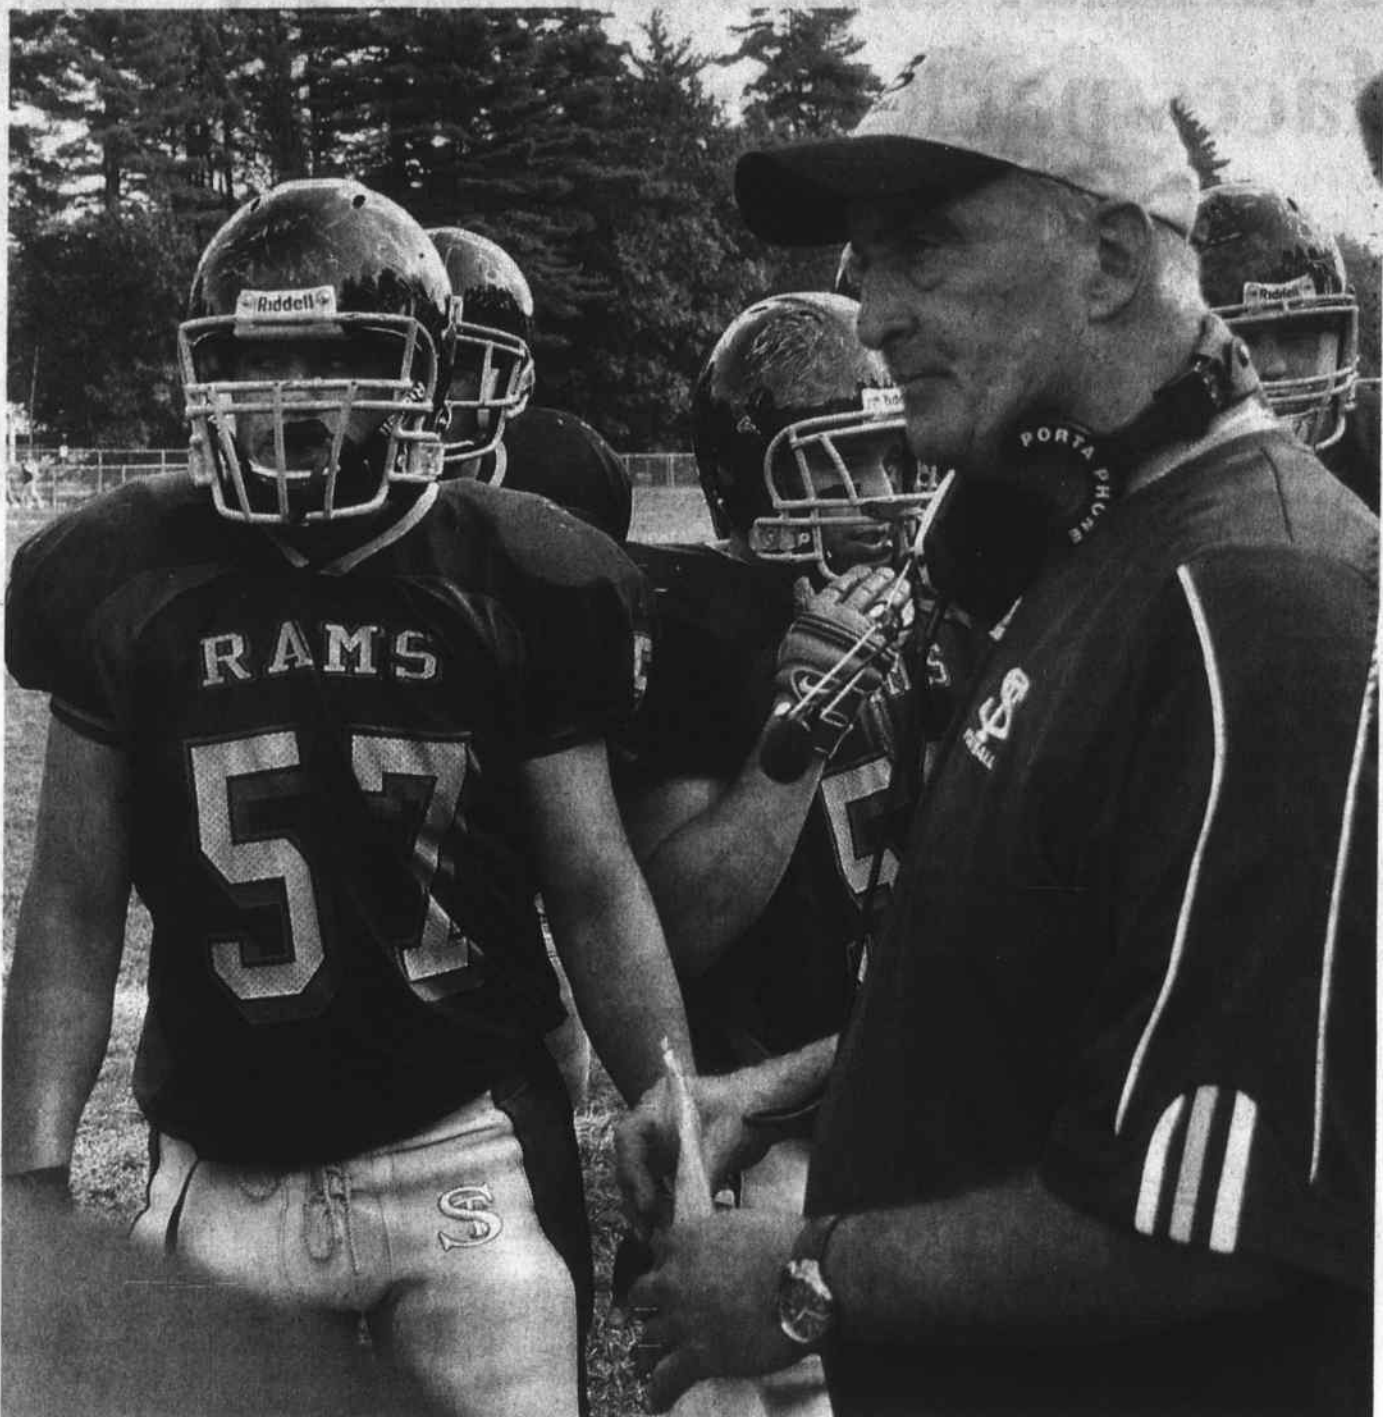

Shawsheen had to overcome Madison Park's chippy play all night long, with many hits after the whistle, particularly late in the game when the outcome was no longer in doubt.

Shawsheen had two more chances to score before the end of the half but an interception on one possession and a blocked 27 yard field goal with 10 seconds left in the half sent the Rams to the break with a 14-0 lead.

The Rams got themselves some more breathing room early in the third quarter when they took the opening kickoff and proceeded to go on a 62 yard drive that was capped off with a one yard keeper by Woolaver with 6:13 left in the quarter for a 21-0 lead. Shawsheen was aided by another Cardinal personal foul penalty during the drive and Reynolds had a big 19 yard run to give the Rams a first down at the Cardinals 20 yard line to keep the drive going.

The Rams had one more long drive on the night moving from their 41 to the Madison Park two yard line, but a two yard touchdown run by Reynolds was negated by a holding penalty and they later missed a 25 yard field goal attempt.

It hardly mattered, however, as the Rams defense, led by Connearney, nose tackle David Summiel and defensive tackle Devin Summiel of Tewksbury along with defensive end Derek Bent continued to shut down Madison Park and pave the way to the Super Bowl.

Reynolds steps up in the clutch

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

SUDBURY- Great players are supposed to step up in big games. While there is still one even bigger game on the schedule, in the biggest game of his career to this point Shawsheen Tech's Steve Reynolds showed just what a great player he is, having what had to be the finest all around game of his career.

The Wilmington native, a junior running back/defensive back for the Rams was all over the field for Shawsheen on Tuesday night in their 21-0 win over Madison Park in the semi-finals of the MIAA Division 4 playoffs at Lincoln-Sudbury High School.

Reynolds ran for 103 yards on 13 carries and also scored the Rams second touchdown of the game in the second quarter to give them a 14-0 halftime lead. On the defensive side of the ball, he came up with several big plays, making several tackles and coming up with a fumble recovery in Madison Park territory.

Reynolds is one of the biggest reasons the Rams have one more game to play, as they will take on Blue Hills Regional of Canton in the Division 4 Super Bowl on Saturday at Curry College.

Reynolds was thrilled to be a part of the first Rams team since 1978 to advance to the Super Bowl.

"I'm feeling great right now," Reynolds said in the moments after the game. "We're going to the Super Bowl, of course I am feeling great right now."

Reynolds has been outstanding on defense all season long and has contributed on offense as well with seven touchdowns on the season. His role on the offense has been limited at times due to the emergence of fellow junior back Andrew Dascoli who has run for over 1,200 yards on the season, but he has stepped up when needed, such as a two touchdown effort against Georgetown as well as a score in the Rams big win over Greater Lawrence. Tuesday night was no different. His team needed him and Reynolds answered the call.

Reynolds knew going into the game that he would be a big part of the game plan and he could not wait for the opening kickoff.

"All week in practice we had been switching off almost every play to try and keep us both fresh," Reynolds said. "I was really looking forward to the game."

Things could not have worked out any better for both Reynolds and Dascoli as each ran for over 100 yards in the victory.

"Both of our running backs not only did a great job running the ball, but they did a great job blocking as well," Shawsheen coach Al Costabile said.

And while it was his offensive exploits that will grab most of the headlines, Reynolds was equally happy to have played well on defense. His fumble recovery came moments after he had scored the Rams second touchdown on a one yard run on the first play of the second quarter, and kept the momentum in the Rams favor.

"Absolutely, I love defense," Reynolds said. "There is no offense unless the defense gets them the ball."

And Reynolds knows there is also no offense without everybody on the team doing their job. On his one yard scoring run in the second quarter he ran through a huge hole in the middle of the offensive line for the score. He had a similarly easy path to the end zone in the third quarter on what would have been a two yard scoring run if it had not been negated by a holding penalty.

"The offensive line did a great job protecting the quarterback and opening holes for the running backs," Reynolds said. "They always do. It makes our job a lot easier."

Last quest: Blue Hills Regional on Saturday

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen football team has been on a remarkable run as of late, posting four consecutive shutouts prior to Tuesday night's win over Madison Park in the first round of the MIAA Division 4 playoffs, and they have now outscored their opponent by a combined score of 139-0 over their past four games as they prepare for Saturday's Division 4 Super Bowl showdown with Blue Hills Regional of Canton at Curry College at 10 a.m.

The Rams will be making their first Super Bowl appearance since the 1978 Division 3 title game when they fell to Concord-Carlisle by a score of 34-0.

While the Rams are definitely rolling, they will undoubtedly be faced with their biggest challenge of the season in their biggest game of the season when they square off against the Warriors. The Mayflower Large champions have outscored their opponents by a score of 308-122 this season on their way to an 11-1 record.

After dropping their season opener to Case by a score of 12-6, Blue Hills ran off ten straight wins to close their season, averaging over 30 points a game over that span.

"They're a very good football team that moves the ball very well," Shawsheen coach Al Costabile said. "They run the Wing-T offense which can be difficult to defend and they run it very well."

Leading the charge for the Warriors on offense will be sophomore running back Vincent Burton, who has scored a state leading 30 touchdowns and 202 points on the season. Burton's season includes a five touchdown game against East Boston in week 6, a four touchdown game against Bristol Plymouth on Thanksgiving Day and three three touchdown games.

The Warriors are not a one man team, however. Running back Isaiah Teixeira has scored six touchdowns and 60 points on the year while quarterback John Curran has thrown for three scores and run for another.

While the Rams will have to contend with quite the challenge from Blue Hills, the Warriors will also be facing their stiffest test of the season against a Shawsheen squad that has now outscored their opponents 324-91 on the season and features senior running back Andrew Dascoli who has run for 1,283 yards and 11 touchdowns on the season as well as senior quarterback Ryan Woolaver of Tewksbury who leads Division 4 with 10 touchdown passes.

The Rams are also on a stretch of a remarkable four consecutive shutouts and have held five straight opponents to under 100 yards of total offense, outscoring their opponents 180-6 over that five game stretch. The last time the Rams were scored on was on the day before Halloween in a 41-6 rout of Lynn Tech.

Costabile credits defensive coordinator Jim Sullivan and his staff for the team's remarkable defensive success.

"Coach Sullivan does a great job with his staff of preparing the kids defensively and the kids respond in a very positive way," Costabile said. "We have had success and we have been able to build on that. The kids pride themselves on the success they have had and also pride themselves on the shutouts."

As well as the Rams will be prepared both offensively and defensively for the Super Bowl, there is no denying that Blue Hills will certainly be prepared as well. The Warriors had a bye in the first round of the playoffs and have not played since Thanksgiving while the Rams will take the field Saturday morning with just three days rest.

"That's something that can be an advantage for them," Costabile said. "We are coming off a very physical football game and we have some kids who are dinged up a little. Their bodies usually have a little more time to recover after a tough game. It definitely presents a challenge for us."

But it is a challenge that Costabile is confident his team will respond to. If there was ever an example of a team improving week by week, then it is certainly this edition of the Rams.

"I am very happy with the way we are clicking right now," Costabile said. "We seem to have gotten better as the year has gone on. If a team legitimately gets better as the year goes on that is a great thing and we are playing great football right now."

Top quarterback in the state? No Kidik

By MIKE IPPOLITO
Sports Correspondent

The season is over for the Bishop Fenwick football team, but it is a season that senior quarterback and Wilmington native Bret Kidik will never forget. It is also a season that fans of the Crusaders that will never forget, as the senior signal caller led the Fenwick offense to a record breaking season that featured more fireworks than the Esplanade on the Fourth of July.

Kidik, running the newly installed spread offense to perfection for the Crusaders, tossed 23 touchdown passes to lead all Division 3A quarterbacks in the state. Kidik also threw for an amazing 2,710 yards on the season to lead all quarterbacks in the state in any division.

Kidik, along with fellow seniors, receivers Ryan Lipka, Jake Bugler and Tyler Thomann were part of an offense the likes of which had never been seen before at Fenwick, and likely had not been seen anywhere else in the state at the high school level either. Most high school teams prefer to run the ball first and worry about the pass second. And even those who do emphasize the pass usually don't put the ball up more than 20 to 25 times per game.

That was certainly not the case for the Crusaders, where Kidik would regularly drop back to throw as many as 50 times per game. And he didn't just fling the ball up for grabs. He threw with success never previously accomplished at Fenwick as he became the school's all time leader in career passing yards, touchdowns and completions.

It was an offense that any quarterback would dream of playing in. And as it turns out Kidik turned out to be a quarterback that any coach would dream of having run their offense.

"For me there could be nothing better than the way we ran our offense," Kidik said. "All I wanted to do was throw the ball and we were throwing it 50 or 60 times a game. I loved it."

And fans of the Crusaders must have loved it as well. While wins were not as plentiful as Kidik and his teammates would have liked this season, as the Crusaders struggled to a 3-8 record, the wins they did pull out were all amazing with Fenwick lighting up the scoreboard and winning in dramatic fashion.

In their 30-24 overtime win over North Reading in week five for example, Kidik threw for 235 yards and three touchdowns, including the 10 yard game winner in overtime to lead the Crusaders back from a 22-0 halftime deficit.

"I will never forget it," Kidik said. "It was just a crazy game. Even though we were down at the half we felt like we could beat them. Just coming back the way we did and going to overtime was incredible and then to win it in overtime made it really special."

"I actually called the play we scored the winning touchdown on so that was very exciting. I will probably never be a part of something like that again."

Kidik may not have had that exact experience again, but he certainly had his share of other remarkable games, including in week seven against Archbishop Williams when he threw for an incredible six touchdown passes as part of a 425 yard effort as the Crusaders came away with a thrilling 44-40 win.

Kidik put the finishing touches on the win with a 62 yard touchdown pass to Thomann early in the fourth quarter. Although there are many great ones to choose from, even Kidik would have to agree that his six touchdown effort may have been the best of his career.

"I think I would say so," Kidik said. "I made some mistakes, but it was a great game. It was not the most yards I threw for all year, but it had to be my best game. When the score is going back and forth like that it is very exciting to be a part of. And the best part was that we won the game."

Even in Fenwick's losses, however, Kidik gave Crusader fans reason to cheer, as he did in their 51-26 loss to Arlington Catholic in week nine. In that contest Kidik threw for a career high 441 yards and four touchdowns, torching the Cougars all night long and keeping his team in the game for a half before AC pulled away in the second half.

"After the game, I couldn't believe I had thrown for so many yards," Kidik said. "I was kind of shocked. I was happy with the way I played, but because we lost I did not really enjoy it very much."

"Losing gets old after a while. I can be happy with the way I played, but I would rather play lousy and have us win than play well and we lose. I am all about winning and that is what I was hoping to do this year."

With his amazing season, Kidik moved to the top of the Crusader all time charts in completions, passing yards and touchdowns. After his 2,710 yards this season he now has over 3,100 for his career to go along with 27 career scoring passes.

During his first two years of his career Kidik did not put up many big numbers with the Crusaders being led by a powerful running game or his career stats might be even more remarkable. But as much as Kidik loved this season and the opportunity to thrown the ball all over the field he was not complaining the past couple of years because he knew the running game was the best way to help his team win.

"We had an extremely good running back and a very good fullback as well," Kidik said. We actually had run the Wing-T before switching to the spread this year because that's coach felt gave us the best chance to win."

Making Kidik's senior season even more amazing is that he is still relatively new to the quarterback position. He did play a year of youth football in Wilmington, but he really did not begin to play quarterback until his freshman year at Fenwick. He actually did not learn to even throw the ball properly until the summer before his freshman year.

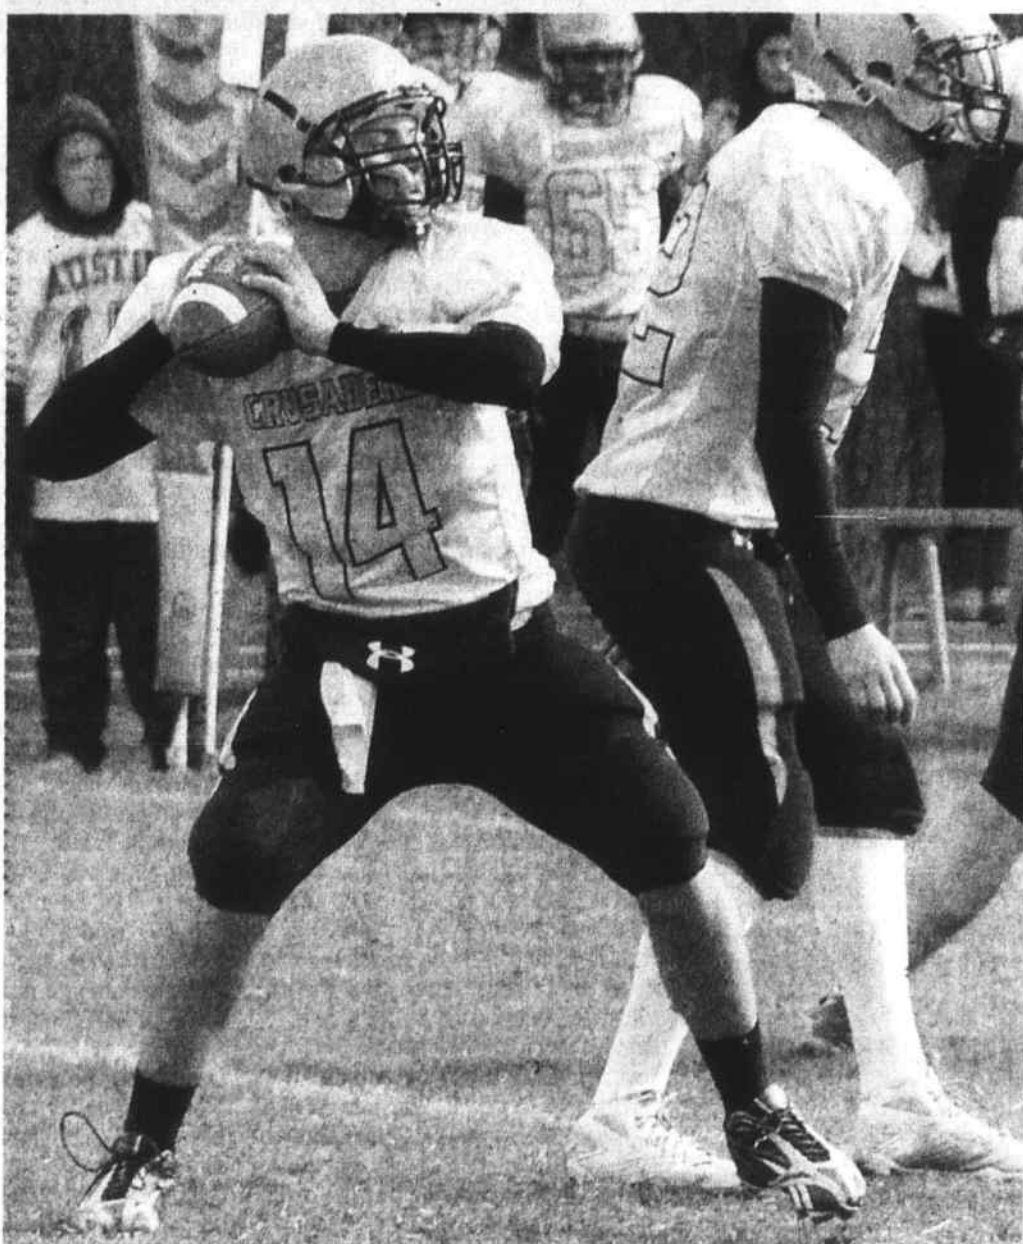

He was lucky enough to have a great teacher that summer, as his father, Ken Kidik, a former quarterback at Brighton High School passed his knowledge on to his son.

"My dad actually taught me to throw," Kidik said. "He taught me a lot and I thank him because I think I throw a pretty good ball now."

That might be the understatement of the year. Kidik, who will captain the Crusaders hockey team in their upcoming season has attracted the interest of several area colleges including Curry, Becker and Bridgewater State, but he has not decided if he will head straight to college or spend a year at a prep school to improve his game even more.

Wherever he decides to continue his education in the future, football will undoubtedly be a part of that future.

"I love to play and I want to play at as high a level as possible which is why I want to do the post grad year," Kidik said. "I would love to play as high as Division 2 in college."

Hundreds of Wilmington runners complete Andover road race

By: LAUREN SPENCER
Sports Correspondent

ANDOVER – Before crowding around the dinner tables for an annual Thanksgiving feast, hundreds of visitors from Wilmington crowded the streets of Andover, as the 23rd Annual Feaster Five Road Race took off last Thursday morning.

The annual 5K-road race featured runners from as close by as Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Southern Maine, and as far away as New York, Virginia, Maryland, Canada and Switzerland. The run was very family oriented, as the majority of participants were families looking to kick off their holiday by accomplishing something great together.

While all adults pay a $30 registration fee to participate, a portion of the proceeds benefit the Merrimack Valley Hospice as well as the Merrimack Valley YMCA. In addition to the 5K race, the event hosted a 5-mile race as well.

The 5-mile race was won by former Tewksbury Memorial High School assistant cross country coach Nate Jenkins, who now resides in Andover. The 30-year-old won the race with a time of 24:10.

"Believe it or not, but I'm never surprised by Nate's accomplishments," said TMHS cross country and track coach Peter Molloy. "He's easily the most knowledgeable distance runners out there on the pro circuit today. And I'm confident that there aren't many people who care more or work harder at their craft than him."

Jenkins helped Molloy in his first season at TMHS back in 2004.

"The time (Nate) spent volunteer coaching during the 2004 season is so valuable to me and those kids," said Molloy. "From my perspective, having never coached or run cross country before the 2004 season, Nate provided me with invaluable knowledge in terms of training, racing, and big meet prep."

Besides taking first place in local races, Jenkins has a history of performing very well on the bigger stage. He placed seventh overall in the 2008 US Olympic Marathon Trials.

"The (Tewksbury) kids they still ask about Nate and often tell stories about how they were watching the 2008 US Olympic Marathon Trials in NYC - and saw Nate on TV," said Molloy. "Most of their college buddies didn't believe that they had a coach that good! So, besides the invaluable coaching he provided, Nate gave those boys and girls some pretty good 'Al Bundy' stories."

As for the Wilmington residents who completed the 5-mile run those include: Thomas O'Shea (36:10), Ryan Covino (37:14), Ali Lyman (38:15), Robert Folk (38:17), Michael Harris (41:47), Kyle Repucci, age 14 (42:04), Andrew Sears and his father Mike at 42:14 and 42:15, Dylan Turner (42:23), Jennifer Cesere (42:51), Adrienne Fisher (43:12), Michelle Cardello (44:28), Yvonne Helbert (44:33), Kathryn Riley (45:02), Louis Farkas (47:38), Debbie Reppucci (48:34), Jill Olson (49:34), Kevin Stokes (49:52), Joy Chisholm (51:59), Julie Duquette (52:44), Natalie Ginzburg (53:18), Tracy Flanders (53:56) and Catherine Maiella (59:49).

Wilmington also had over 100 residents participating, ranging from ages 6-61. Suzy Jones, 10, was the top finisher in Wilmington's 20 and under age group, coming in at 20:19. Amy Fisher, 18, finished next with a time of 26:02. Fisher is one of the captains on this year's WHS Cross Country team.

Nally's make it a fun family event

By: LAUREN SPENCER

ANDOVER – A little over 20 years ago, you would have found Pat Nally spending his Thanksgiving morning suited up in his Wildcats football uniform ready to take on the Redmen in the annual Thanksgiving Day rivalry.

This year he spent it a little differently, as he, his wife Christine, and two kids, Dean and Rachel, along with over 10,000 others, ran in the 23rd annual Feaster 5K road race in Andover.

"It's a different family tradition," said Pat, who has been running with his wife, as well as his four siblings and their spouses, for the past seven or eight years.

Last year was the first year his 9-year-old son, Dean ran with them, and this year was the first time running with his 6-year-old daughter Rachel.

"It's become a tradition we do every year," said Christine. "It's a lot of fun, and [the kids] loved it."

"It will always be a family tradition," said Pat, a police officer in Wilmington. "It's just a nice event. It's a nice thing for the kids to get out and do and it's an accomplishment. You have that feeling that you completed a tough road race."

Finishing with a time of 35:54 alongside his son Dean, Pat was glad to have that feeling, and Christine and Rachel weren't too far behind, coming in together at 42:55.

This year's Feaster Five featured runners from as close by as Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Southern Maine, and as far away as New York, Virginia, Maryland, Canada and Switzerland, but the majority of participants are like the Nally's, a family looking to kick off their holiday by accomplishing something great together.

While all adults pay a $30 registration fee to participate, a portion of the proceeds benefit the Merrimack Valley Hospice as well as the Merrimack Valley YMCA.

Pat said he and Christine participate in a number of other races throughout the year in addition to the Feaster Five.

"My wife and I do the Wilmington half marathon each year. We probably do four or five races a year ... slow," he said laughing. "Races might not be the word for it, but we trudge along. We do it to spend time with the family and to accomplish something together. It's also good to have to goal to reach when you're trying to do some working out."

This year, running with both of their kids, made the experience a little different for the Nallys, but also more enjoyable.

"Usually I'm trying to race my own clock of what I ran last year, but this year for the first time I was slowing it down and running with my son and it was awesome," Pat said.

The Nallys finished off the day at Pat's father's house for Thanksgiving dinner and quality time spent with family.

"It just makes you realize how thankful you are for things," Christine added. "And the kids were very proud of themselves."

Nine year-old Dean summed up his take on the morning very simply, "It was fun and I beat Rachel," he said with a smile.

On Friday, three high school students who reside in Tewksbury participated in the Eastern Massachusetts Soccer Coaches Association All Star Game at Quincy's Veterans' Memorial Stadium. Tyler McQuesten and Alex Bouthot represented Tewksbury Memorial High School and Adam Johnson represented Central Catholic High School. They were voted to the team as Eastern MA All Stars by coaches throughout the region. The game between the North squad and the South squad ended in a 1-1 tie.

All three boys played together for many years in the Tewksbury Youth Soccer program, were on the same travel teams for a number of years, and were coached by the same coaches for much of their early soccer years. All three players were recognized as All Conference Players by the Merrimack Valley League coaches for the recently completed soccer season. In addition, Tyler McQuesten was named MVC Small Player of the Year and Adam Johnson was named MVC Large Player of the Year. Tyler and Adam were also named as All State players in recognition of their outstanding soccer seasons.

Their club team, the Shooting Stars Soccer Academy, won the championship in their U16 division, winning all of their games and not allowing a goal. (courtesy photo).

Papageorgiou's dream season comes to an end

By DAN IGO
Sports Correspondent

Wilmington's Vinny Papageorgiou saw his dream season come to a sudden end as the Franklin Pierce men's soccer team lost 1-0 to Dowling last Monday in the NCAA Division II Quarterfinals.

Papageorgiou, a junior goalie, made five saves in the loss. Franklin Pierce was the No. 1 ranked team in the country and carried a 17-match unbeaten streak. The team also won Northeast-10 Conference regular season and tournament championships.

Papageorgiou was outstanding behind goal this year, concluding his season with a 17-2-2 record. He was named to the 2010 Daktronics All-East team last month and had a 0.53 goals against average with 11 shutouts.

Dowling is no slouch as they improved to 12-1-6 and advanced to the Final Four in Louisville on Tuesday.

Tewksbury's Sammy Macy scored two goals to help lead the UMass Lowell field hockey to a 6-1 win over Stonehill in the Northeast-10 Conference Championship game.

Macy, a senior forward, was named to the All-Tournament team for her performance. A week earlier she was named to the NE-10 First Team for the third time in as many years after leading the conference in goals and points.

The River Hawks earned a bye in the NCAA Tournament thanks to their 22-0 record. They will play Stonehill again in the North Region Semifinal in the NCAA Tournament in Louisville on Thursday.

Mike Fitzgerald was honored for his standout season on the MIT football team by being named to the New England Football Conference Boyd Division first team.

Fitzgerald, a senior wide receiver from Wilmington, was one of the few bright spots for the Engineers this year, who had a record of 1-8. He was easily the top receiver for his team and ranked second in the NEFC in receptions per game (6.6) and third in receiving yards per game (77.8).

For his career, Fitzgerald had 111 receptions (fifth all-time) and 1,577 receiving yards (second all-time).

Fitzgerald's season isn't over yet, however, as he was selected to compete in Friday's "Division III Football Senior Classic" in Salem, Virginia.

Ashley Vitale had 20 points on 9-of-11 shooting to lead the Endicott women's basketball team to a 74-70 win over Daniel Webster College last Tuesday.

Vitale, a senior forward from Wilmington who is also a team captain, scored those

ASHLEY VITALE

20 points in only 18 minutes of play. She chipped in three rebounds as well.

Vitale is averaging 11.6 points and 6.4 rebounds through five games this year. The Gulls, who boast a record of 4-1, travel to Boston on Thursday to take on Suffolk.

Wilmington's Amy Fahey scored 11 points in a losing effort as the Fitchburg State

Mite 1's score quick against Woburn

This past weekend, the Wilmington Youth Hockey Mite teams competed in Woburn's 7th Annual Turkey Day Classic. The Mite 1s began their quest Friday morning against the host Woburn team that was led by one player, who scored five goals - two in the first 19 seconds.

Kyle Collins scored Wilmington's first goal to close the gap to 2-1 and the first period ended with the Wildcats down 3-1. The defense of Felicia Zuccola, Matt Miller, Justin Crowley, Matt Pendenza and Garrett Alberti did their best to impede any further Woburn attack.

Forwards Riley Fitzgerald, Chris Bernazani, Will Lawson, Nolan Vigeant, Cameron Banks, Jared Russell and Anthony Cuzzo played their positions well and had a number of scoring opportunities. Woburn would score three more times, though, before Zach Kincaid could find the back of the net.

Sam Cedrone, in net for the Wildcats, played with pride and stopped shots from all but two Woburn players who combined for all seven of the Tanner goals.

In an exciting second game played on Saturday morning, the Wildcats came out fighting against Arlington. Down 1-0, Matt Pendenza, Cameron Banks and Will Lawson kept pressure on the Arlington goaltender with great passing and positioning. Jared Russell would fight hard in the corners with Nolan Vigeant and Zach Kincaid getting multiple scoring chances. Kyle Collins would even the score at 1-1 with four seconds left in the first.

In the second period, Arlington would have the advantage. Anthony Cuzzo made some unbelievable saves as the shots kept coming. Wilmington's Chris Bernazani and Riley Fitzgerald would continue to make plays in the offensive zone. Halfway through the second period, Arlington would take a 2-1 lead.

The defense came up big holding off the Arlington pursuit. Garrett Alberti, Sam Cedrone and Matt Miller were outstanding in taking the play away from the opponent in the neutral zone while Felicia Zuccola and Justin Crowley cleared pucks away from Cuzzo's net with precision.

Early in the third stanza, Kyle Collins turned on the jets and went end-to-end to tie the game at two. Later, Arlington would score one more time, and with the goalie pulled in the last minute, Wilmington went on the attack to no avail and fell short once again by a score of 3-2.

This team would not be deterred. In their second game of the day, Saturday afternoon, Wilmington would face Winchester and would take no prisoners. Riley Fitzgerald would get the scoring started early for the Wildcats for the first time in the tournament. Later in the first, Matt Pendenza scored on a beautiful pass across the front of the net from Cameron Banks to put Wilmington up 2-0 after one.

Early in the second, the Wildcats found themselves shorthanded, but Kyle Collins wasn't fazed as he gave Wilmington a 3-0 lead. Just two minutes later, Will Lawson's tenacity would finally pay off as he, too, found the back of the net.

Although there were four different goal scorers in this game, the play of the defense made the difference. Felicia Zuccola played her position with proficiency, holding down court at center ice to prevent breakaways. Justin Crowley got in front of and blocked numerous Winchester shots. Garrett Alberti stick handled like a pro carrying the puck up the ice. Sam Cedrone intercepted passes in the neutral zone, and Matt Miller guarded the blue line with consummate defense.

In the third period,

Wilmington would keep the attack on as Chris Bernazani found some open ice and multiple scoring opportunities. Zach Kincaid and Jared Russell were tough in the corners and kept the pressure on the Winchester goaltender. Nolan Vigeant played his wing and the boards with speed and also had a number of chances.

Anthony Cuzzo was outstanding in net, making one glove save after another, covering the puck quickly and preventing any rebounds.

With a 1-2 tournament record, Wilmington would meet Winchester again on Sunday morning to play for third place. In the first period, an aggressive Chris Bernazani would send Kyle Collins up the middle of the ice for the first Wildcat score. But, the lead would be short as Winchester tied it up less than a minute later.

In the second period, Winchester would take a 3-1 lead, but forwards Riley Fitzgerald, Cameron Banks, Nolan Vigeant, Will Lawson, Zach Kincaid and Jared Russell never stopped fighting. Shot after shot, their scoring chances were taken away by a speedy defense and spot-on goaltending by Winchester.

The Wilmington defense kept the Wildcats in the game as Matt Miller and Garrett Alberti patrolled the ice and got in the opponent's way every chance they got. Felicia Zuccola, Justin Crowley and Sam Cedrone all stood tall at the blue line keeping the puck in the offensive zone. Anthony Cuzzo stood tall in net once again and kept the game close.

Early in the third, Matt Pendenza flew down the left wing and took a shot from the corner that somehow found the far side of the net to close the gap to 3-2. Wilmington would pull Cuzzo for an extra attacker at the end of the game, but Winchester would score in the empty net to lock up the third place finish.

O'Connor had his first experience in the Wilmington-Tewksbury rivalry after attending the Thanksgiving game.

"I'm excited, although it's a little chilly," O'Connor said. "I have my Tewksbury jacket on, so I'm excited."

O'Connor was hired earlier this year to replace outgoing superintendent Christine McGrath. After reading the Town Crier, O'Connor understood the extent of the 77-year rivalry between the Redmen and the Wildcats.

"I was reading in (last week's Town Crier) about the 1985 game," O'Connor said. "So I know the rivalry goes back quite some time. I'm glad that there's no snow."

O'Connor said that Tewksbury would win the game because Tewksbury is "a little more experienced" and has "a little more athleticism."

His hunch was right, as the Redmen won by a 26-21 margin.

Wilmington gets great support

This year, the sky was clear for the Thanksgiving Day game. Much like the spectators watching the game, Wilmington Band Parents President Kevin Bleier appreciated the decent weather.

"The most memorable game I've gone to was Thanksgiving two years ago in the pouring rain," Bleier said. "I was stuck in the cold and the rain. It was a fun game."

Blair's son, Justin, is the Wilmington High band's drum major. Six years ago, Kevin Bleier became involved in the Wilmington Band Parents, a group that raises money for the band.

"This is the third game that I've gone to," Bleier said. "I think it's a great opportunity to help the kids."

Another terrific group on hand during the game was the Wilmington Touchdown Club.

"We're a group of parents who support the football team," club president Elaine MacKinnon said. "It's a great group of people who do several fundraisers. We do the 50-50 raffle, a sweatshirt fundraisers for the kids, a golf tournament, and we have a lot of fun with it. We've bought a blocking sled, uniforms, scholarships, and we pay for the football banquet. It's a lot of work, but it's fun."

On Thanksgiving Day, the Club was holding the 50-50 raffle. MacKinnon said that the club usually raises around $250. However, the club was able to outdo their expectations by raising $590 during this year's game.

Friends in High Places

Although they moved to Wilmington several years ago, Alex and Phil Ball already know about Thanksgiving Day football from their days in Pennsylvania.

"We're relatively new to the area. This is the first year we've been to the game," said Phil Ball, who was wearing an old-fashioned Patriots leather helmet. "We love it. You can't beat (today's game)."

Another Wilmington duo at the game included Mike Dambrosio and Mark Nasiff, who seemed to have some football thoughts elsewhere.

"I went to Durfee (High School) in New Bedford," Dambrosio said. "If Durfee wins against New Bedford, they go to the playoffs. If they lose, Brockton goes to the playoffs."

Dambrosio's friend, Mark Nasiff, said, "See that? He's still following his high school. I went to Reading (High School), and they're already in the Super Bowl."

Unfortunately for Dambrosio, Durfee lost to

New Bedford on Thanksgiving by a 21-7 margin.

Several Coaches On Sight

Ever since his father took his first Thanksgiving Day game in 1976, Tewksbury Memorial High School teacher and varsity boys basketball coach Jim Sullivan has made the game an annual part of his family's holiday. Now, his sons are taking part in the Thanksgiving Day tradition.

"I remember every Thanksgiving Day game, and I bring my guys to the game every time," Sullivan said, referring to his sons, Michael and Daniel. "We go to my mother's house for Thanksgiving, but before we go (there), we go to the game."

Sullivan, who is the boys' basketball coach at Tewksbury Memorial High School, said that his most memorable Thanksgiving Day game is definitely the 1985 snow game. However, Sullivan doesn't forget the other Turkey Day games.

"We have been here for many cold days," Sullivan said, "and there are always good games."

Keeping Cookie on Track

For over 50 years, Frank Kelley has been an integral part of the Wilmington High School community. In a new book titled Our Mr. Kelley, author Rick Cooke details the life of Kelley, a former track coach and teacher at Wilmington High.

"(In 2007), when I talked to Coach Kelley, I realized there's a great story there," Cooke said. "I have known him for years and years, but I never knew his story."

"When you say the most, that means you mean one thing," Kelley said when asked what has meant the most to him during his years in Wilmington. "I don't think I can analyze it down to one thing."

Cooke responded by saying, "He has changed a thousand lives for the better. We meet a lot of people who come to book signings, former students, and they all have a great admiration for him."

The book is available online at the Harvard Book Store website.

Last one for Levine

As he continues his final year at Tewksbury High, long-time coach Steven Levine has attended many Thanksgiving Day games, 34 to be exact. During this year's game the coach reflected on previous Wilmington-Tewksbury games.

"The idea of meeting everyone is what I'll miss most," Levine said. "The idea of meeting all of the alumni I've known for 38 years is the greatest part of this game."

Levine will retire at the end of the year. When he coaches outdoor track in the spring, it'll be his 100th consecutive coaching season.

"I didn't plan it that way," Levine said.

Lefty reels in a fish

When the Tewksbury Redmen football team went undefeated in 1985, former coach Robert Aylward was at the helm. Ironically, there is a connection between him and the undefeated Miami Dolphins of 1972.

"I have a friend, Jim Kiick, who was a tailback on (Miami's) undefeated team," Aylward said.

Aylward laughed when asked if he was Tewksbury's version of legendary Dolphins' coach Don Shula, saying, "We've had a lot of good years, but that one was special."

Sports

A MOMENT WITH...

Frank Irizarry

Wilmington Youth Lacrosse Secretary

How has lacrosse evolved since you became involved with the sport?

I was involved briefly, about 18 years ago and the sport has shown significant growth and evolution in that time. Lacrosse was a largely regional sport relegated to Long Island, Central New York and the greater Baltimore area. The level of athleticism among lacrosse players was good but today's player is a bigger, faster, stronger, better athlete. Additionally, the sport has exploded in popularity all over the United States and especially in Massachusetts. Fifteen years ago there were only a handful of high school teams and almost no youth programs in Massachusetts and now almost every town has a high school and a youth program. At a time when numbers for other sports are leveling off or dropping, lacrosse numbers continue to rise.

Why is the Wilmington Lacrosse League important to the community?

I think the Wilmington Youth Lacrosse Association (WYLA) is important to the community because it provides another athletic option in the spring. Football and soccer dominate the fall, and hockey and basketball dominate the winter. For many years, athletes had to play baseball or do nothing in the spring and with the growth of lacrosse, athletes just get another option for athletic competition.

Lacrosse is also important because it can be an excellent primary sport as well as an excellent complimentary sport. We get a lot of football, basketball, hockey and soccer players who come out and have great success as well as have a lot of fun in lacrosse. The game combines some of the physicality of football, the open-field play and team work of soccer, the 1-on-1 moves and fast paced action of basketball and the stick skills of hockey. Not only do these athletes like lacrosse but they find that it helps them if they play other sports as well.

As secretary, what is your role?

We have a great board of directors at WYLA. Most of our members have been involved since the start of WYLA many years ago so part of what I do is learn from them. As secretary I deal with a lot of communication issues; email to parents, write-ups for the town crier, promotion of registration, maintaining our facebook and twitter pages as well as manage and maintain our association database. It is a demanding position but our former Secretary, Mark Kennedy, has been such a great mentor in showing me the ropes. I have worked with a lot of youth sports associations and I can honestly say that WYLA is the best board I have ever worked with.

Have professional lacrosse teams, such as the Boston Cannons, had an impact on the league?

Teams like the Cannons and the Boston Blazers have had an impact because when there is a professional presence, younger kids become interested in a sport. A lot of kids get involved with football, basketball, hockey and baseball because they see Tom Brady, Paul Pierce, David Ortiz and Tim Thomas on television and they want to emulate that.

Additionally, having a professional presence and bringing them to town - last year Boston Blazers captain and National Lacrosse League MVP Dan Dawson came to Wilmington for a lacrosse clinic - is unique to lacrosse. The players are more accessible whether it's the Blazers at the Garden or the Cannons at Harvard Stadium. They are certainly more accessible than athletes in the big four sports and the kids love that.

What advice would you give to current and upcoming lacrosse players, based on your experiences?

Current players know how great the sport is so I don't really have a message for them. It really is a lot of fun and it is certainly the fastest sport on two feet. To players thinking about playing lacrosse I would say this: Baseball is a wonderful sport and has been the national pastime for over 100 years. It was your grandparents sport and your parents sport. It has tradition and history passed down from generation to generation. Lacrosse is different. It is YOUR sport. A lot of kids gravitate to lacrosse because it is an opportunity to be unique, to do something and play something that their parents and grandparents probably did not play. A lot of players who've grown up learning baseball, basketball and football from their parents enjoy the opportunity to teach their parents about the game of lacrosse. Lacrosse will be the sport of the 21st century so I would encourage players to get involved now.

Has lacrosse become more popular during your time with WYLA? Why or why not?

Lacrosse with the WYLA, like everywhere else in New England and the country, is growing in popularity every year. Lacrosse is one of those games that once you play; you don't want to put down that stick. We don't have a hard time keeping kids, our challenge is getting them to come out and give lacrosse a shot. Once they do, many of them are hooked for life. My son John Irizarry is a good example. We moved to Wilmington from Florida three years ago and he had never seen or played lacrosse. He went out and played our first year here and he's been hooked ever since. Now he plays year round in Wilmington, with the Raptors league in Tewksbury and with the Boston Shamrocks summer travel team. He's a goalie which means he's a little crazy to begin with but he is certainly crazy for lacrosse. He plays other sports but lacrosse is probably the sport he is most passionate about.

What has teaching public relations at Suffolk University been like?

Teaching public relations at Suffolk has taught me what great young minds we have here in the New England area. The students I work with are some of the hardest working and brightest students I have ever had the pleasure of teaching and I have taught in New York, Chicago, Syracuse, Florida and New Mexico. Suffolk students by and large are hard working and enterprising students that keep me on my toes!

Would it surprise people that you were on a championship-winning football team at Marist College? Why or why not?

It might surprise some folks because for those that know me, I am not quite in the same shape as I was 21 years ago when I was playing in college. But I was a defensive lineman on a conference championship team and I have the ring to prove it. I'd like to say that I was the prototype for the quicker and more athletic defensive linemen that you see today!

How has coaching in Wilmington Youth Lacrosse affected you personally?

Coaching in the WYLA has been an awesome experience. I get a chance to work with great young men, with great coaches like my co-coaches Mike Leighton and Mike Corcoran and I get to be part of a dynamic and forward thinking board of directors that are doing an awesome job growing and shepherding lacrosse in Wilmington. It's been a great three years and I look forward to many more.

Mite IIs take Turkey Day Classic Tournament

The Wilmington Youth Hockey Association Mite 2 team skated to the B Division Championship at the Woburn Turkey Day Classic Tournament during the holiday weekend. Max Churchill and Alex Fitzler each played solid games in net, and the overall team defense was in trademark form. David Bazile was the star on offense, with some timely goals from the rest of the team contributing to the successful run to Sunday's final.

Friday morning began with a match against Winchester, a team that lost to the Wildcats in a tight 1-0 game earlier in the season. The tournament action was no different as the game unfolded. Wilmington grabbed the lead with a David Bazile strike late in the first period. Winchester tied the score at one with a goal late in the second, but that was all the scoring goalie Max Churchill would allow.

The teams traded rushes through the final frame, but the chances were thwarted with solid positioning by both team's blue liners. Finally, with only three minutes remaining, Bazile struck again for the blue and white. Less than a minute later, Harry Serounian forced the play from his defensive position and broke in to score and ice the 3-1 victory.

In the Friday evening nightcap, Wilmington faced host Woburn. The Tanners were looking to avenge a 5-3 loss to the Wildcats in the first game of the season back in September. Alex Fitzler took over in goal, and David Bazile again kicked off the scoring with a goal in the first minute. Woburn responded to take the lead with two first period goals of their own, but Wilmington tied the game at two before the first period expired. The game became a rough and tumble affair with every inch of the ice contested.

After Woburn chipped in a go-ahead goal halfway through the second period, the Wildcat defense took over. Aidan Elkins and Harry Serounian kept Woburn to the perimeter and created space for David Bazile to again showcase his offensive skills, first to tie the game at three, and then to put the winning tally late in the third period. The contest came down to the final second as a last desperate rush by the Tanners forced Alex Fitzler to tip aside one last shot with his catching glove as time expired.

On Saturday afternoon the Wildcats met Arlington, also undefeated, for a chance to reach Sunday's championship game. Wilmington put in their best effort of the weekend, with A.J. Lavigne stepping up his game and earning four assists. Max Churchill was back in net and played as well as he had in the Friday morning contest. Goals from David Bazile and Brendan Ardito gave staked Wilmington to a 3-2 lead by the end of the second period. As they have so often this season, the Wildcats stepped on the gas from there to pull away in the third period. Bazile and Brendan Ardito added to their goal tally, with Matt Ardito and Matt Vinal earning assists.

Late in the game, Joseph Hartzell moved up to center from his starting position on the blue line to cap off the scoring for a 6-2 win and a trip to the championship game.

Sunday's final was a re-match with Winchester, which after losing the first game to Wilmington had won their other two games in the preliminary round. C.J. Petrie, shifted from center to defense and promptly set up Brendan Ardito for the first goal of the game. David Bazile continued to carry the hot hand with goals late in the first and early in the second before Winchester could score. Through the second period, the third line of Maura Fiorenza, Robbie Courtney and Nathan Alberti kept Winchester hemmed in and on the defensive. Brendan Ardito cashed in on a breakaway, and David Bazile finished his hat trick to give the Wildcats a 5-1 lead heading to the final period.

Winchester increased the pressure and converted on rebounds to score a pair in the third, but time ran out for the Sachems as Wilmington took control of the pace of the game to secure the 5-3 win and a four game sweep of the B division tournament.

Ten of the 14 Wildcat players scored goals or assists, and those players that were held off the score sheet contributed on the other side of the puck, as the team allowed only nine goals against in the four games. For their excellent team play, the Wildcats earned a team trophy and an individual medal for each player.

The Mite 2 squad returns to Valley League action next Saturday morning in Tewksbury. For more information on upcoming games go to www.wilmingtonyouthhockey.org.

women's basketball team fell to UMass Boston last Tuesday.

Fahey, a freshman, was nearly perfect from the field as she went 5-of-7 in the loss. She had two rebounds and an assist as well.

Fitchburg State (3-2) will be back in action on Thursday when they play host to Simmons College.

The Thanksgiving holiday weekend is always popular for road races, and this year was no different. A number of local runners competed in the "Thanks4Giving" 5K held in Lowell. From Tewksbury, the following runners competed in the race, with their place in parenthesis: Kevin Beauregard (66), Joseph Corriveau (112), Russell Morin (121), Kim Budryk (173), Matthew Corriveau (219), Alyssa Maia (273), Phil Maia (275), Jimmy Reynolds (301), Brady Rodgers (320), Jamie Rodgers (322), John Derouen (517), Kimberly Lannon (521), Greg Briggie (533), Dreana Briggie (570), Richard Snyder (595), Kelly Khachadourian (674), Albert Glassman (735), Harriet Snyder (736) and Nicole Gladston (734).

Surprisingly, with all those Tewksbury competitors, there was only one Wilmington resident who ran in the race. Dawn Roberts finished in 35th place with a time of 29:28.

Wilmington Youth Wrestling still has some spots available for the upcoming season. More information can be found at the league's Web site: leaguelineup.com/welcome.asp?url=wilmington-wrestling.

Wilmington Youth Soccer is offering different ways to register for the 2011 intown season. Players can either be registered online or at the Shawsheen Elementary School cafeteria on Dec. 14th. The league's Web site has the details: <http://www.wilmingtonyouthsoccer.org/>.

The friends of Wilmington High School Girls Basketball are having a fundraising event this Friday. A night with the legendary Jim Plunkett will be held at the Knights of Columbus hall. For tickets and more info contact Christine @ 617-966-8914.

Wilmington Little League is looking for new board members, and those interested can visit the league's Web site for more details: <http://www.wilmingtonlittleleague.org/>. That site also has details on registration for the spring season, which is now open.

BY GORDON VINCENT

The Middlesex area has had its share of published authors over the years, but it's safe to assume that none of them has had more fun researching his subject than Woburn resident Matt Kalman.

Kalman's book, "100 Things Bruins Fans Should Know & Do Before They Die," was released in October, and the author tapped more than 80 years of history into a must-have tome for all Boston hockey fans.

Kalman, who is also the creator of TheBruinsBlog.com website, found out some interesting things about the Bruins during his research of one of the NHL's Original Six franchises.

"A lot of people don't know that the Bruins had some good teams in the '50s, in the period after Milt Schmidt and before Bobby Orr," said Kalman. "And the Bruins had some very good players like Eddie Shack and Ted Green in the '60s that have been forgotten about a bit over time."

Kalman estimates he interviewed between 50-60 former players, coaches and others connected with the Bruins during his 3-month research period. He was able to track down some of the more colorful figures in the history of the franchise, including centerman and television color analyst Derek Sanderson, Eddie Johnston (one of the goaltenders during the Bruins' halcyon era of the early '70s and the last NHL goalie to play every minute of every game in a single season) and former defenseman and Northeastern University coach Fern Flaman.

"Of course I was able to (interview) Cam Neely and Harry Sinden, both of whom were very helpful, but I wanted to talk to as many people as I could since the book was about the entire history of the franchise," said Kalman. "Hockey players are generally considered to be the most gracious and polite interview subjects in all the major sports, so I was able to get a lot of information from a lot of interesting sources."

He also gives a big assist to Stan Fischler, the godfather of modern hockey writers, for his help.

"Even though Stan is a New York guy, he was a big fan of the Bobby Orr teams and wrote probably the definitive book about them in that era, 'Bobby Orr and the Big, Bad, Bruins,'" Kalman said.

Of all the anecdotes and stories he captures in the book, none is more moving to him than the night Ray Bourque doffed his number 7 sweater so it could be retired in honor of Phil Esposito, who wore number 7 during his Bruins career that included the team's last two Stanley Cups in 1970 and 1972.

"That was one of the best kept secrets in the history of the franchise," said Kalman. "Esposito certainly didn't know about it beforehand, and that's what makes it such a dramatic Bourque, who along with Orr and Eddie Shore forms the holy trinity of Bruins' defensemen, for the rest of his career wore the number 77 sweater, which was also eventually retired.

Kalman was under a tight deadline from his publisher, Triumph Books, to complete the book in time for the holiday

Movie Reviews

by Paul Feely

"127 HOURS" AN INCREDIBLE TALE

"127 HOURS" STARS JAMES FRANCO who recreates the real life ordeal that Aron Ralston endured when his arm became pinned in a crevice and his only escape was to amputate his arm. It is a powerful, emotional film.

"127 HOURS"
GRADE: ****

Actor James Franco, announced this week as a co-host for the 2011 Academy Awards broadcast, may end up handing himself the award for Best Actor for his portrayal of climber Aron Ralston in this non-fiction celebration of the human spirit and the will to live, no matter what the odds.

Ralston became famous in 2003 when he emerged, close to death, from a remote canyon in Utah where he had been trapped for five days in a crevice with his arm pinned by a huge, unmovable boulder.

Stuck there and having run out of water, he faced the certainty of a slow and painful death when he made the choice to amputate his own arm, with a simple and painfully small (and somewhat dull) knife, in order to escape.

After that, he still had to rappel down the rest of the cliff, and walk eight miles out of the canyon before he was eventually rescued.

Despite the fact that many viewers already know how the story plays out won't diminish the power of director Danny Boyle's film, or Franco's performance.

Franco plays Ralston as a man consumed with his love for life. He is always running or skipping somewhere, happy to meet people along the way and eager to explore the world we all share and experience everything it has to offer.

The sequences that show when Ralston is trapped are at times difficult to see (and stomach - the amputation scenes are especially graphic) but you can't look away. Boyle proved what he can do with a camera and a great story when he made the hit 'Slumdog Millionaire', and this time he has an incredible tale to tell.

This movie ends up being less about a man forced to cut off his own arm, and more about finding the will to live against all odds. It is as much a story about humanity itself as it is about one man's ordeal.

"HARRY POTTER
AND THE DEATHLY
HALLOWS: PART 1"
GRADE: ***

The main characters audiences have been following for 10 years hit a new height in their worldly and otherworldly educations - maturity - in this, the seventh Potter film to hit the screens.

In this installment, Harry and friends leave childhood behind as they head into what looks to be a final showdown with Lord Voldemort, whose evil forces continue their reign of terror on the world of wizards.

As things begin to heat up, war, Harry (Daniel Radcliffe), Ron (Rupert Grint), and Hermione (Emma Watson) camp out away from the danger and learn about life while tracking down Voldemort's remaining soul-container Horcruxes, which leads them to learn about the legend of the Deathly Hallows.

The three friends endure loss, separation, isolation, jealousy, and torture, and worse as they attempt to remain together through the most difficult and dangerous time of their lives and ready for what is shaping up to be an all-out battle.

But that won't be resolved until July 15, 2011, when The Deathly Hallows, Part II is released. It's going to be a long eight months for Potter fans.

The stake are very high in this installment, and director David Yates and screenwriter Steve Kloves do a decent job of breaking up author J.K. Rowling's source material into two films, mixing in action sequences, fight scenes, and bits of humor while moving the story to what is a known conclusion for the millions of fans of the literary series these films are based on.

The end is near, and it might already be known by most, but many still want to see it play out.

"UNSTOPPABLE"
GRADE: ***

There's a freight train rolling along without a conductor in rural Pennsylvania, and it's gaining speed - and that's the right word here, 'Speed' as this disaster film starring Denzel Washington and Star Trek's Chris Pine plays like a worthy followup to that film starring Keanu Reeves and Sandra Bullock.

Of course the train (which in essence is a long, long missile) is headed right for the town where Washington's daughters work and where Pine's estranged wife and son live, and its carrying toxic chemicals. Can they team up to stop it, before it unleashes certain death hundreds, maybe thousands?

That's the premise of this well-made action film about a heroic attempt by two railroad employees to stop a runaway train. The story is based in part on a real 2001 runaway train incident in northeastern Ohio, which had an outcome similar to, but nowhere near as dramatic and tense, as the tale told in this film.

Director Tony Scott is back with Denzel, after previously making films like Crimson Tide, Man on Fire, Déjà Vu, and last year's train movie, The Taking of Pelham 1 2 3, together.

Washington has played this part so many times he could do it in his sleep, but that doesn't mean he doesn't pull it off effectively.

Pine plays Will Colson, the new hire in the train yard with something to prove.

While due are good together, and overall the movie works. It is a good action movie with solid acting by all the main players.

Dawson's performance was particularly good, in a star-caliber role she doesn't normally appear in.

"MEGAMIND"
GRADE: ***

Supervillain Megamind (voiced by Will Ferrell) finally manages to kill off his superhero archrival Metro Man (voiced by Brad Pitt). But he misses the excitement of battle, so he decides to invent a new superhero - only he botches the job, churning out a villain (played by Jonah Hill) even worse than he is and now he has to be the good guy.

That's the plot of this gem, disguised as a superhero comedy for kids. But that's not really the target audience - the story and pop-culture references are too complex, the jokes too Gen X and even (gasp) older. Anyone under 10 will probably laugh a bit but be bored as well.

When Megamind's latest plot to destroy Metro Man actually works and Metro City goes undefended, the evil mastermind finds himself feeling lost, even incomplete, and he hatches a plot

HOLIDAY MARKETPLACE AND CRAFT FAIR

Come finish your holiday shopping while supporting the RMHS Drama Club. Parents Supporting Student Theatre (PSST) presents Dickens Holiday Marketplace and Craft Fair on Saturday, December 11 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Reading Memorial High School.

Admission is free. There will be over 30 craft vendors for your holiday shopping, selling gift items, jewelry, folk art, hand bags, and much more.

There will be homemade Bake Sale items to savor plus ongoing free entertainment in the Performing Arts Center throughout the day.

Come enjoy performances by Creative Arts, Dance Expressions, Elite Freestyle Karate, Music is Art, Quannapowitt Players, RMHS Chorus, RMHS Shakespeare Society, Voices of Hope. The event is a fundraiser for the RMHS Drama Club.

OIL LANDSCAPE DEMONSTRATION

Robert Farris will present an oil landscape demonstration at the Reading Art Association on Wednesday, December 8 at 7:30 p.m. The location is Guild Hall, Congregational Church (middle side door) Sanborn Street, Reading.

Mr. Farris, of Lynn, is a regional oil painter working in the manner of traditional realism. His glazing technique and comprehensive use of complementary/analogous color theory have brought a crisp, fresh look to his landscapes, still lifes and portraits. All are welcome. Admission is free, but a small donation is always appreciated. As usual, refreshments will be served.

READING CIVIC BAND CONCERT DECEMBER 12

The Reading Civic Concert Band performs its next concert at 3 p.m. on Sunday, December 12. The concert theme is "Home Grown." Director/Conductor Lucinda Ellert has collected together both composers and themes that sprang from American soil.

The program will feature works such as Shenandoah by Frank Tickeli, Bamboula, which Louis Gottschalk based on a New Orleans street vendor's chant, Southern Harmony by Donald Grantham, Aaron Copeland's Variations on a Shaker Hymn, and more.

The concert will be held at the Parker School Auditorium. Admission at the door will be $8 for students and seniors, $12 for adults. Children 8 and under are free. Directions can be found at www.readingcivicband.org.

BOYS & GIRLS FUN NITE IN STONEHAM

The Boys & Girls Club of Stoneham will be hosting its next Friday Fun Nite on Friday, December 10 from 6 - 9:30 p.m. The program is for any child 7 to 12 years old and you don't have to be a Club member.

The cost is $10 for members and $20 for non-members. The price includes a night filled with fun, games, activities, dinner and dessert. All kids must register for this event by Wednesday, December 8 at the Club's front desk.

For more information about the Friday Fun Nite Program or club programs drop by the Boys & Girls Club at 15 Dale Court or call 781-438-6770.

to create a replacement superhero and thus a new reason for being... until his new enemy starts wreaking havoc, forcing Megamind to save the city with the help of a newscaster (Tina Fey).

This is a smart on the hero myth and the age-old battle of good vs. evil. There's also a message that anyone can be a hero - dorky Megamind is a misfit from the second his parents send him off in a small space ship as their planet explodes. Socially awkward, his only friend is a fishy sidekick in a robot suit, and turns evil in retaliation for the way he is treated. On the other side of the spectrum, Metro Man has everything handed to him, including his hero status, but that isn't enough to bring him happiness.

This is one tale where the geek gets the girl, and there's nothing wrong with that.

"SAW 3D"
GRADE: *

This seventh installment in the Saw franchise has little to offer even longtime fans of the series, let alone newcomers looking for a scary thrill this time of

Please check your local "Daily Times Chronicle" for daily updates.

YES, NO, AND MAYBE SO IN WINCHESTER

Not exactly up close and personnel. But not out of reach either.

"There were 10 Personnel Board motions at Town Meeting to approve outstanding FY10 employee contracts and all new contracts for the period of FY11-FY13," notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"From one table at the front of the auditorium, the Board of Selectmen recommended Town Meeting vote 'Yes.' At the opposite side, the Finance Committee recommended its vote 'No.' As each motion dealing with wage adjustments and account transfers came to a vote, everyone could hear those who were Town Meeting members on each board vote against each other.

"Other Town Meeting members were also divided on the motions, but the majority voted with the selectmen.

"Kevin Yew of the Personnel Board made the first recommendation, saying his board had reviewed the contracts and recommended favorable action. He said the contracts - with the police, fire, DPW, custodial, and municipal clerical unions, as well as non-union employees and three school unions - were the result of much hard work and that approval of the contracts would resolve grievances and unfair labor practice suits filed as a result of changes in the health insurance program.

"Yew said the increase was 'modest,' and Tom Howley, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, later presented a chart comparing Winchester with 10 other towns (such as Belmont, Lexington, Reading, and Woburn) and said Winchester's increase was smaller than the average of those towns.

"Howley spoke to the question, why should Town Meeting approve the wage increases in this economy and with a projected budget deficit. He said it was appropriate for the employees and necessary for proper fiscal management...

And so it went until

"Despite the reservations expressed by the Finance Committee and the difficulties with the process, Town Meeting approved all the personnel articles."

WORM WOULD IN TEWKSBURY

Sometimes it's not that easy, being green. And sometimes it is.

"It's not very often that teachers direct students to play with trash or tell them that worms are a welcome addition to the classroom, but that's exactly what the 5th grade class was encouraged to do when Tewksbury's Green Committee sponsored a seminar on composting at the Ryan School," notes the Tewksbury "Town Crier."

"The School Department and the Tewksbury Green Committee teamed up to raise awareness about the need to recycle in students' everyday lives. Pam Shirkoff and Loreen Bradley organized the event with funding from a grant that was awarded to the Green Committee. Each fifth grade classroom was visited by composting expert Filis Warren.

"Warren spoke about the importance of recycling, and how people must do everything they can to maintain a healthy ecosystem. Then, she brought out her buckets. They were filled with compost materials and worms.

"Warren taught the kids how they could make their own compost sites, what materials they can throw away, and how they can use worms to help them in their eco-friendly futures.

"The kids were very receptive," said Bradley. "I was surprised to see that around 50% of the kids were already gardening or composting at their homes. I think the younger generation is much more in tune with the whole process of maintaining a healthy ecosystem...."

And then they treated themselves to the very organic concept of worm tea.

FIVE GOALS IN READING AND NOT FOOTBALL.

"Superintendent of Schools Dr. John Doherty recently outlined his goals for the coming months for the district," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"This year's catch phrase is 'Bumper Sticker' - the slogan for the year's mission - 'Preparing Reading's Youth to Be Respectful and Productive Citizens of a Global Society.' He provided the group with a draft of the goals that he believes support that mission, which includes the strategies and action steps for attaining a given goal, as well as measurable outcomes.

"Doherty has five main goals: 1) Increase communication and collaboration with all stakeholders in the Reading Public Schools; 2) Decrease the number of bullying incidents; 3) Increase technology proficiency level of teachers and staff; 4) Increase revenue generating ideas; and 5) Increase student achievement over all grade levels"

Although the the wording may evolve, the mission remains clear.

FESTIVAL OF TREES DECEMBER 4 AND 5

Now in its 9th year, Reading's popular Festival of Trees event returns December 4 and 5 at the Parker Middle School, 45 Temple Street in Reading.

Sponsored by the Reading Technology and Education Foundation, Inc. (RTEF), this important fund raising event not only spreads a little holiday cheer, but also is the RTEF's major fundraiser, supporting Reading's teachers by funding teacher initiated technology grants.

RTEF received $52,000 in grant requests from Reading's teachers last December, and due to fund constraints, were only able to fund a portion of that amount. Everyone will enjoy seeing the beautifully decorated, themed trees. Buy a raffle ticket (or many!) and you could be taking home a tree already decorated!

Trees are generously donated by local residents, organizations, neighborhoods and businesses. If you are interested in donating a tree or an item for the Silent Auction please contact Debbie Boschchetti at rtef@reading.k12.ma.us.

by Paul Feely

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA: Who is the only head coach to lead both an NBA and a WNBA team to championships? Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•The #1 seed UMass Lowell River Hawks (22-0), ranked first in the Kookaburra/NFHA Division II National Coaches Poll, will take on the #2 seed Stonehill Skyhawks (16-6), ranked No. 5 nationally, in the North Region Semifinal on Thursday at 1:00 p.m. in Louisville, Ky. in the NCAA Semifinal.

The River Hawks are coming off a 6-1 victory over the Skyhawks in the 2010 Northeast-10 Conference Tournament Championship and were led by a pair of goals from SENIOR FORWARD SAMMY MACY (TEWKSBURY, MASS.), as well as a goal and an assist from senior Katie Enaire (Amesbury, Mass.), junior Annie Hansbury (Plaistow, N.H.) and FRESHMAN

RACHEL MCCARTHY (READING, MASS.). The victory marked the River Hawks' third victory over their conference rival this season.

Despite falling in the championship game to UMass Lowell, Stonehill is coming off an NCAA Quarterfinal victory over American International on Nov. 23 at home in Easton, Mass. The 1-0 decision was swayed by senior Lindsey Pinkham's goal in the 36th minute of play.

The teams met in last year's NCAA Semifinal, held at Stonehill's W.B. Mason Stadium, where the River Hawks captured a 2-1 victory over the Skyhawks, their first win over Stonehill that season. Stonehill had defeated UMass Lowell twice in the regular season before the River Hawks took their first victory of the year from the Skyhawks in the Final Four. Macy netted the game-winner with less than two minutes remaining in regulation.

This is UMass Lowell's eighth consecutive trip to the NCAA Tournament and they are searching for their fourth consecutive trip to the Title Game and a shot at the second NCAA Championship in program history. They won the program's lone title in 2005.

UMass Lowell is averaging a nation-best 5.14 goals per game and is also leading the country with just 0.32 GAA. Stonehill is letting up 1.60 per game to its opponents, ranking them seventh in the country and netting 2.29 of their own, ranking them 11th.

The River Hawks are led offensively by the senior trio of NE-10 First Team All-Conference selections Macy, Enaire and NE-10 Player of the Year Liz Day (North Andover, Mass.), who have combined for 70 goals on the year. Macy recently broke the program record for points in a season, tallying 75 (30g, 15a) so far this year.

Defensively, NE-10 Goalkeeper of the Year Melanie Hopkins (Harwich, Mass.) has let up just seven goals on the year, as UMass Lowell has outscored opponents 113-7 so far this season. She has amassed a .913 save percentage and 0.33 GAA. The River Hawk defensive corps has helped the squad to out-corner opponents 260-100 this year and only allows 6.4 shots per game.

Stonehill has been led this season by junior forward Kathryn Nelson with 41 points (19g, 3a), as well as Pinkham with 22 points (8g, 6a). Goalkeeper Courtney Osier has played over 1500 minutes between the pipes for the Skyhawks and has amassed a .746 save percentage with a 1.48 GAA.

The teams met twice during the regular season, as UMass Lowell outscored Stonehill 8-0 with a pair of 4-0 victories. The squads first met in Lowell on Sept. 22, as Enaire scored two of UMass Lowell's four goals. Hopkins stopped all eight shots she faced. In the teams' second meeting on Oct. 27 at Stonehill, it was Enaire again with another two-goal outing to lift the River Hawks to victory. Hopkins made nine stops during that second meeting.

•MERRIMACK COLLEGE JUNIOR JOE CANNATA (WAKEFIELD, MA) was named the Pure Hockey Defensive Player of the Week Monday, marking the second time this year he has received this award.

Earning two ties against #1 Boston University, Cannata stopped 58 of 62 shots, including 32 in a 1-1 tie at BU Friday night.

On the season, Cannata, the Pure Hockey Defensive Player of the Month for October, ranks third in among Hockey East goaltenders with a 2.11 goals-against-average and a .936 save percentage.

•Need some help with this week's question? His initials are P.W.

•FITCHBURG STATE SENIOR ROBBIE PACINI (STONEHAM, MASS./STONEHAM) was tabbed the MASCAC Men's Soccer Offensive Player of the Week as announced by the conference office recently.

Pacini collects his first career weekly honor after leading Fitchburg State to a 1-2 week. The senior midfielder etched his name in the NCAA Division III record books with a five goal, one assist performance vs. Rivier College. Pacini became the fastest player to record four consecutive goals in a period, topping the previous record of 5:26 set by Patrick Floeck's (Trinity - Texas) in 2008. In the 8-1 victory over the Raiders, Pacini notched four goals in a span of 3:46, cruising to an 11 point effort in the contest.

This season, Pacini finished second in scoring among all Fitchburg State players, posting 15 points on seven goals and one assist. Over his four-year career, Pacini appeared in 65 career games, totaling 31 career points on 13 goals and five assists. He tallied two game-winning markers throughout his time, including the game-winning score vs. Rivier this season.

The Fitchburg State men's soccer team concluded its 2010 campaign with an overall record of 4-13-0 and a 1-6-0 clip in the MASCAC.

•Based on a 67-58 season-opening victory over Smith College in the Seven Sisters Classic, the Vassar College women's basketball backcourt combination of junior Brittany Parks and freshman Cydni Matsuoka will be hard to keep a secret for long.

In the win, Parks and Matsuoka combined for 50 of Vassar's 67 points and 15 of 21 field goals. Parks scored 28 points, the second highest of her career following a 30-point effort against William Smith her freshman season, and went 11-for-12 from the free throw line. Parks also tracked down nine rebounds, a new career high and dished out six assists. Matsuoka scored 16 of her 22 points in the first half - on 4-of-5 shooting from 3-point distance - and made all four of her free throws.

From that point, momentum swung in Vassar's favor and Smith was only able to get within four points on two occasions, 42-38 following a layup by Devon Quattrocchi at 16:13 and 44-40 with 15:34 to play after a layup from Sydney Parkmond. Over the next two minutes, the Brewers went on a 9-2 run, getting five points from Senfteleber, two off Parks free throws and a bucket from SENIOR GUARD CAROLYN CRAMPTON OF READING that created a lead that Smith couldn't cut into.

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: Paul Westhead, who coached the L.A. Lakers in 1980 and the Phoenix Mercury in 2007.

•DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please email it to readingchronicle@com-cast.net.

Kalman

season, which meant a lot of his research overlapped his coverage of the team for his website.

A New York native, Kalman admits he wasn't a Bruins fan or even a particularly enthusiastic hockey fan growing up. He attended Boston University and after graduation took the typical route into journalism, working wherever he could, including a stint at the Wilmington and Tewksbury Town Crier publications.

That led to a job with the esteemed New England Hockey Journal, and eventually into some radio and television gigs. Kalman started covering the Bruins regularly after the NHL lockout and he was the first internet blogger to be granted full access to cover the team.

The blog was interrupted when he joined ESPN to create its webpage devoted to Boston teams, but when his tenure there ended he returned to the website full-time.

"I had someone set up the template for the website, but other than that it's been my work," said Kalman. "I go to home games and practices. I don't usually travel with the team unless it's a big game."

Kalman's book is part of a series from Triumph about some of the more storied sports franchises in the country, mostly Major League Baseball, pro football and college football teams (i.e. Boston Globe scribe Nick Cafardo wrote "100 Things Red Sox Fans Should Know &

Do Before They Die," while St. Louis Post-Dispatch writer Derrick Gould wrote the baseball Cardinals version of the series).

Coincidentally, he was working on his book while the author of the Philadelphia Flyers' version in the series was working on his book when the two teams met in the playoffs last season.

Kalman's book was released in October and sales in the first two months were robust enough to warrant a re-order at the official Bruins pro shop at TD Garden. The book is also available at book shops and online at Amazon.com.

"I've gotten a lot of good feedback about the book," said Kalman. "The thing about Bruins fans is they're very passionate. There's always been a base there, and there's been more interest in the team now that they're doing well again."

Kalman will be promoting his book during an appearance on Thursday, Dec. 16, from 12:30-1:30 p.m. at the Barnes & Noble store at the Prudential Center in Boston.

"It's a great book for die hard fans, but casual fans will like it as well," said Kalman. "The Bruins as a franchise have a great tradition and history."

And it's safe to assume that no author had more fun researching his subject matter than Woburn's Matt Red Sox Fans Should Know & Kalman.

Don Fournier named president of Stoneham Bank

Stoneham Savings Bank Board Chair Elsie Wallace announced today that Donat ("Don") Fournier of Beverly has been selected to serve as president and chief executive officer of Stoneham Savings Bank. Don replaces Jeff Worth who has been serving as president and CEO on an interim basis since last June. Fournier joins Stoneham Savings Bank from Danversbank, where for the past year, he has been serving as Executive Vice President, responsible for that Bank's wealth management operations.

Fournier brings almost 40 years of experience in banking and bank management to Stoneham Savings Bank. Many on the North Shore know him as the former president and CEO of Beverly National Bank (which merged into Danversbank in 2009); he also held leadership roles at Webster Bank and New England Community Bancorp - both in Connecticut; and at Eastland Financial Corporation, in Rhode Island.

Since moving to Beverly, Fournier has been an active member of the community, serving on the Board of Directors of both the North Shore Chamber of Commerce and the North Shore YMCA. He also served as a member of the City of Beverly Economic Development Committee; and chaired the North Shore YMCA's Affordable Housing Committee.

Fournier lives in Beverly with his wife Rosemary

Home prices falling faster in most metro areas

(AP) — Home prices are falling faster in the nation's largest cities, and a record number of foreclosures are expected to push prices down further through next year.

The Standard & Poor's Case-Shiller 20-city home price index released Tuesday fell 0.7 percent in September from August. Eighteen of the cities recorded monthly price declines.

Analysts say high unemployment, tight lending standards and millions of foreclosures will weigh on home prices.

"Unemployment is still high, people are afraid of losing their homes and credit is hard to get," said Maureen Maitland, vice president of S&P indices.

Still, Americans are gaining more confidence in the broader economy, a new report Tuesday showed. The Conference Board, a private research group based in New York, said consumer confidence rose to a five-month high in November.

Yet the housing market remains depressed.

Among the cities in the Case-Shiller index, Cleveland recorded the largest decline. Prices there dropped 3 percent from a month earlier. Prices in San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego, which had been showing strength this year, also dropped in September from August.

Washington and Las Vegas were the only metro areas to post gains in monthly prices.

The 20-city index has risen 5.9 percent from their April 2009 bottom. But it remains nearly 28.6 percent below its July 2006 peak.

And home prices have fallen in 15 of the 20 cities in the past year.

Prices in Tampa, Fla., fell to their lowest point since 2003.

Meet Jeffrey

Hi! My name is Jeffrey. "I like to make people laugh, and I love being outside!"

Jeffrey is a friendly and outgoing young man of Hispanic descent. With a healthy sense of humor, Jeffrey likes making people laugh. Running around outside and climbing on jungle gyms are Jeffrey's first loves, however he also enjoys playing basketball and baseball. Jeffrey likes learning new things, and hopes to learn karate. He likes to draw, do arts and crafts and watch television and movies.

Jeffrey resides in a foster home where he is doing well and where he gets along with the other children in the home. Meeting with similar success in school, Jeffrey benefits from being part of a therapeutic school setting.

Legally free for adoption, Jeffrey would do well in a family of any constellation, with or without other children. An active family that is able to help Jeffrey overcome his low self esteem and make him feel better about himself would be ideal. Jeffrey also enjoys contact with his siblings that would need to continue after placement. With the structure, stability, love and affection of a permanent family, Jeffrey will continue to triumph over the obstacles in his life and blossom.

Jeffrey's very special wish is to have a family of his own where he could feel special.

Who are the Children Waiting for Adoption?

There are approximately 2,400 children in Massachusetts foster care with the goal of adoption. Through no fault of their own, they cannot be raised by their birth parents. Many will be adopted by a relative or foster parent, but more than 600 have no one to adopt them yet.

To learn more about Jeffrey, and about adoption from foster care, call the Massachusetts Adoption Resource Exchange (MARE) at 617-54-ADOPT (617-542-3678) or visit www.mareinc.org.

Eggnog a holiday tradition

The holiday season is rife with tradition. From gift-giving to kissing under the mistletoe to spending time with family and friends, the holidays are a time of great tradition and family fun.

Another holiday tradition for adults only is the drinking of eggnog. No holiday party is truly complete without a batch of delicious eggnog. This season, ensure guests get their fair share of this holiday staple with the following recipe for "Excellent Eggnog" from A.J. Rathbun's "Good Spirits" (Harvard Common Press).

Excellent Eggnog

Serves 8.

8 large eggs, preferably organic

2 1/4 cups superfine sugar

8 ounces brandy

8 ounces rum

4 ounces bourbon

1 quart milk

Freshly grated nutmeg for garnish

1. Separate the eggs from the egg whites, setting the whites aside for a moment.

2. In a large mixing bowl, beat the yolks with a hand mixer until completely combined. Add the sugar and beat until it reaches a creamy consistency.

3. Add the brandy, rum and bourbon, and then the milk, beating well.

4. In a medium-size mixing bowl, beat the egg whites with a hand mixer until soft peaks form (be sure before beating the whites that you have cleaned and thoroughly dried the beaters).

5. Fold the egg whites into the yolk, sugar and alcohol mixture. Refrigerate the mix until well chilled (at least three hours). You may also refrigerate it overnight if desired.

6. Stir to recombine as needed. Serve the eggnog in mugs, topping each serving with some nutmeg.

Double doors open into the room on the left side of the entry, which could be outfitted as the Lewiston's media room, study, library, or home office.

Downsizing a home

When a person comes to a certain age and the children move out and on with their own lives, a home may become too big for its occupants. At this point, residents may feel it's time to downsize to a smaller home.

Downsizing can be exciting and challenging at the same time. Going through and packing belongings can be a trip down memory lane. But chances are a smaller space will mean that a person will have to part with a number of his belongings collected over time.

To make the process easier, first assess how much space there will be in the new home. Many times floor plans or room dimensions are available. First measure large items, such as furniture, to be sure it will fit in the rooms. Then think about storage possibilities.

Next, make a running list of what items can be discarded and where those items will go. Some belongings can be donated to charity, while others may be given to family and friends. Many other things could end up in the trash or recycling bins. Knowing where things will go will make them easier to sort.

Handsome Lewiston feels open, informal

A brick facade and corner quoins gives the medium-sized georgian style Lewiston a feeling of substantiality. Hipped rooflines add yet another element of visual appeal.

This three-bedroom home is designed for families who have little use for formal living spaces. The functions generally served by a living room, dining room and family room are combined here in one large, bright and uniquely shaped great room. It boasts a 9-foot ceiling, gas fireplace, and a richly windowed rear wall. One set of sliding glass doors provides access to a large patio. Interesting angles characterize the walls opposite the windows.

The kitchen, too, is angled. Amenities here include a step-in pantry, extensive counter space, and built-in appliances. A large utility room with plenty of storage space is just steps away. The utility room has garage access as well, handy for unloading groceries in inclement weather or after dark. The garage is large enough to shelter two cars and still have space for storage and a workbench.

Another one of those angled wall spaces is the owners' suite's spacious walk-in closet. Other luxuries in the owners' suite include: a small private patio with space for an outdoor spa, and a private bathroom with oversized shower, spa tub, and separately enclosed toilet.

Secondary bedrooms share the central bathroom and are well-isolated from the owners'
